

GOV. JOHNSON SIGNS BILL

MEETING OF COUNTY
COMMISSIONERS HELDIn Lowell Today—Propose to Build Sewer at County Training School, No. Chelmsford

The county commissioners, Messrs. Gould, Williams and Marden, the latter from Lowell, held a meeting at the court house in Gorham street, this city, this morning, and the principal questions were the project of laying a granite sidewalk opposite the court house in Gorham street, and also the construction of a sewer at the county training school in North Chelmsford, the same to run into the Lowell sewer probably at the corner of Brattle and Middlesex streets.

The commissioners, Mr. Gould presiding, opened the meeting at 10 o'clock. Commissioner James E. Donnelly of the streets and highways department, Supt. Newell F. Putnam and City Engineer Stephen Kearney were present. Mr. Donnelly opened up by saying a delegation had come from the street department to see if the county commissioners were willing to have a new sidewalk installed in front of the court house in Gorham street, and pay half the cost. He then introduced Mr. Putnam, who said the present sidewalk in is in very bad condition and thought the best thing to be laid would be a granite sidewalk from Elm to North streets, half of the cost to be paid by the city and the other half by the county.

Mr. Williams said this has been tried before but the parties interested could not reach an agreement. "The only difference at that time," said Mr. Williams, "being that we were unwilling to be a party to the contract, for if anything went wrong, that is if a man worked over eight hours in one day, the commissioners were liable to a fine of $1000."

Chairman Gould said the county would agree to pay one-half of a reasonable expense for the said work. The commissioners were then informed that every part of the sidewalk outside of the city line would have to be paid for by the abutters. Engineer Kearney said the total cost of the new sidewalk would be about $150 per square yard, which would mean about 50 cents per square yard for the county and city.

The commissioners are willing to pay half of the cost but they want the city to do or have the work done and then send their bill to the county, but Mr. Donnelly objects to this because of the fact that the cost of the work would be taken out of his appropriation, and the sum received from the county would go toward the general fund. Finally it was agreed by both parties that the work would be done some time in June, or as soon as court sessions are not held in the building, which will be in a couple of weeks. The city will have the work done and later the county's bill will be sent to the commissioners. Some arrangement will be made so that the county's share of the expense will be returned to the street department fund.

Training School Sewer

The next question taken up was that of constructing a sewer for the County Training school, the same to run into the Lowell sewer. This is a suggestion of Mr. Marden. Engineer Kearney when questioned by the county commissioners said the Lowell sewer extends as far as the corner of Brattle and Middlesex streets and said he believed the city had a right to have any sewer enter her sewers at the city line without going to the legislature. He agreed to supply the commissioners with the approximate cost of the proposed sewer, and the matter was referred to a later date. At the present time there is no sewerage at the school, the dry well system being used.

Before the closing of the meeting Mr. Gould explained how Lowell was paying taxes like other cities to maintain the county commission, and by her charter the said commission was excluded from this city. "We have no jurisdiction in Lowell," said Mr. Gould, "and accordingly we cannot do a thing for your streets or roads. A few years ago we widened Andover street at the request of a number of residents of the vicinity, but legally we had no authority to do it. Although there never was any complaint on the matter, the charter excludes us from Lowell and therefore we have to abide by it."

Mr. Marden took occasion to pay a flattering compliment to Commissioner Donnelly, when addressing the other county commissioners, he said: "Under Commissioner Donnelly's management the street department of the city of Lowell has met in a most satisfactory manner the demands from the men interested in general road improvement in the city. All were treated fairly and satisfactorily, and I can safely say that Mr. Donnelly is one of the best men Lowell has had at the head of this important department."

UNDER POLICE GUARD

20 Strikers Returned to Work at Paterson

PATERSON, N. J., May 18.—Through a lane of police two blocks long 20 persons, formerly employed by the silk mill of the Arthur Price Co. went back to work today after a strike of more than two months. Hundreds of pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World sought to prevent their return but the police guard was too effective. There were lively scuffles for a time, and sixty pickets were arrested.

The Price mill is a comparatively small one, employing normally 30 hands. The return of its strikers with demands unaltered is however heralded by the manufacturers as meaning the approaching end of the strike. Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World on the other hand maintain that the fight will go on unabated and that few others will yield.

TRIAL OF PRESIDENT
WOOD OF LAWRENCE

W. M. WOOD

Charged With Conspiracy to "Plant"
Dynamite—Atteaux and Collins
Also Arraigned

BOSTON, May 18.—William E. Wood, a textile manufacturer of international reputation, Frederick E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins were placed on trial today, charged with conspiring to "plant" dynamite at Lawrence during the textile strike in that city in January, 1912.

The trial has been awaited with special interest because of the prominence of Mr. Wood and because it is the first time in the history of Massachusetts that a serious criminal charge arising from labor difficulties has been preferred against a manufacturer. The indictment and arrest of the mill man last August caused a sensation.

Dynamite in House
Atteaux is a dealer in chemicals and a friend of Mr. Wood. Collins is a dog fancier of Cambridge. It is charged that the three defendants conspired with John J. Brown, an under-taker of Lawrence, and Ernest Pittman, a builder of Andover, to place dynamite in a house occupied by textile operatives for the purpose of prejudicing public opinion by making it appear that the strikers had possession of an explosive which they intended to use in damaging mill property. The police discovered the dynamite and arrested several striking operatives who lived in the house. All subsequently satisfied the court of their innocence and were discharged.

Soon afterwards Brown, a member of the Lawrence schoolboard, was arrested, convicted and fined $500 for "planting" the explosive. Pittman, who built the Wood mill of the American Woolen Co., committed suicide on the day that the Suffolk grand jury began an investigation of the alleged conspiracy.

Admission By Ticket
Because of the great number who wished to hear the proceedings it was necessary to restrict the spectators to those holding tickets of admission. Mr. Wood himself had some difficulty in getting in but finally established his identity. He was followed into the courtroom by his counsel, former Congressman Samuel J. Powers. Mr. Atteaux was accompanied by his attorney, Daniel H. Conkey, and Mr. Collins by John J. Attridge, who will represent him.

Judge John C. Crosby came in at one o'clock and court was opened immediately. When the roll of forty veniremen was called, 43 of the number asked to be excused from jury giving their reasons privately to the court. Selection of Jury
When the selection of a jury was begun the court announced that each of the defendants would be allowed two challenges. The first 12 men called were satisfactory to the court, but upon objection by the state four withdrew. Of the four men substituted, two required upon being challenged by Atteaux.

Each talesman was asked if he was related to any one of the defendants or had any interest in the case; had formed or expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of any defendant; and if he was sensible of any bias or prejudice.

The Jury Completed

Two jurors were challenged by Wood and two others by the commonwealth. Collins did not challenge. The jury was completed after ten men had been rejected. The jurors are Charles J. Weesop, shoe dealer, foreman; John H. Enos, manager; Michael J. Whelan, clerk; Joseph E. Hines, painter; Edward J. Kennedy, watchman; Edmund J. Egan, clerk; Benjamin Small, shipper; Henry Barrett, Jr., shipping clerk; Leo J. McRae, carpenter; Patrick Flynn, coachman; Morris Shuman, newsdealer; Jeremiah J. Mahoney, clerk.

Foreman Weson lives in Chelsea. All the others belong in Boston.

After the reading of the indictment adjournment was taken for luncheon.

MURDERER OF "PADDY
THE PRIEST" EXECUTED

"Happy Jack" Mulraney Was
Electrocuted at Sing Sing
Prison Early Today

ROSSING, N. Y., May 18.—John Mulraney, who was to have been put to death as a murderer on March 17, but who won a 60 days' reprieve by declaring in a personal appeal to the governor that he was going to his death as a martyr of a criminal "code of honor," was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison early today.

"Happy Jack," as he was known to his comrades, wore to the last the smile that had won him his nickname and called back to the other inmates of the death cells a cheerful "goodbye." Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant and the gunman involved with him in the Rosenthal murder were among the 14 who answered.

The murder of which Mulraney was convicted was that of Patrick McBrean, known as "Paddy the priest," a New York saloonkeeper, who was shot while standing behind his bar on the night of October 3, 1911. John J. Dowling, who died before he could be tried and Mulraney, both signed confessions to the murder but in the deathhouse Mulraney repudiated his admissions, claimed an alibi and asserted he had accepted the conviction, following a "croak's code of honor, not to squeal on the other fellow," Justice Rosalesky of New York decided, however, there were no grounds for a new trial.

TWO SENT TO THE REFORMATORY

Young Men Were Charged With Breaking and Entering and Larceny

Two young men who have proven themselves a menace to the public were in police court this morning, charged with breaking and entering and larceny. Both defendants, Stanislaw Caron and Wm. J. Burns, pleaded not guilty.

The complaint charged them with breaking into the room of Fred Durant at 70 French street and taking a pocketbook containing $25 from his trunk. The complainant was the first witness called to the stand and he testified that he had entertained both defendants yesterday morning at his room and had had occasion at that time to and show them his bankroll. He then put the pocketbook back in his trunk and locked it and they all went out together. That was all that he knew about the case, he said. The next witness was Mike Frechette. Frechette occupies the room directly over Durant and in the afternoon, he testified, both defendants came back to the house where he and Durant roomed in search of the latter. When they found that he was not in they made their way to Frechette's room where they stayed for about ten minutes. After saying goodbye and leaving his room they did not immediately leave the house, as heard by Durant's door slam and about 15 minutes later slam again and then saw the two accused young men emerge from the house and go up French street. Caron, he said, threw some article away as the two came to a point opposite the Boott coal shed.

Officer McMahon took the stand and testified to finding a bent file which he produced in court, in the coal shed of the Boott mills. The file, he said, fitted the marks made by the instrument used in prying open the trunk. Captain Atkinson showed the court a skeleton key which he said was found in Caron's pocket.

The defendants contradicted the story told by Frechette and said that they both left the building immediately upon leaving the latter's room. Upon cross-examination by Supt. Welch Caron admitted that he had been sent up before for stealing and that his home was in Fall River. Burns also admitted that he had been sent to state's prison for larceny. They were both found guilty and sent to the reformatory.

Fined $30 for Larceny

From the evidence before the court this morning it seems that Joseph Bedovitch wanted to get drunk yesterday and, as he didn't have enough money of his own, he appropriated a wallet with $27.00 in it belonging to John Turkewicz. According to the witnesses of the affair, the defendant found the complainant asleep with his wallet lying on the bed and took wallet, money and all. Feeling rather lousy he invited a friend out to get drunk and sought a local hotel without delay. He was arrested on Central street with only $7 and the pocketbook left out of Turkewicz's treasure. He was fined $30.

Assault and Battery

Angelos Panagakis was charged with assault and battery upon Ethelma Chaskaloff as well as with beating the complainant in the side of the head with a brick. The misadventure broke the injured man's hat and knocked him unconscious, leaving a mark on his face today. The defendant was fined $20 for assault and battery and $2 for drunkenness.

Drunken Offenders

Joseph Billeau and Hugh F. Lambert were each fined $6 for their second appearance for drunkenness within the year. Augustus Croteau, Ernest Desrosnes, and Adam Mesitovitch were all fined $5 for being drunk on the Lord's day. They were eight released by Probation Officer Slattery.

BOSTON, May 19.—The Braintree police are trying to find the person who locked the shed door on the outside, in which was found yesterday morning the body of George F. Corliss, who died some time Saturday night.

Discovery of the body of Corliss led the police at first to believe that murder had been done. The man fell and broke his skull.

DENUNCIATION OF WAR

Secretary Bryan Makes
Vigorous Attack

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Vigorous denunciation of a "subsidized patriotism which seeks to create war because of the profits in armor plate and battleships" and of the sensational and mercenary newspapers which prefer big scarehead lines to the truth, marked an address by Secretary Bryan yesterday at The Hague anniversary meeting, held under the auspices of the Washington Peace society. It was in celebration of the 14th anniversary of the first meeting at The Hague.

"War is in the interest of a few people, not of all," Mr. Bryan declared. "The profits are garnered by a few, while the masses pay the taxes. A few men gain glory, while the mothers of the nation furnish the sons who make food for battlefields. War rests upon feeling, not upon necessity. Back of much of the furor of war is a selfish interest in the manufacture of battleships. And there are men so unpatriotic that they try to stir up trouble in another country against their own, so as to make personal profit therefrom. Is there any danger use for money?"

"The people are learning to discriminate," said the secretary, "between patriotic newspapers and those that seek only for big headlines. I was pained to see the attack Secretary Daniels made on this sensationalism. I hope to see this discrimination by the people increased."

Secretary Bryan expressed the belief that in time this country would have treaties with all other nations, providing for efforts to arbitrate all questions of dispute and that other nations would follow this country's example. These agreements, he said, would make it "almost impossible to bring this country into war with any other contracting nation."

Increasing intelligence, the growing disposition to bring governments nearer the people and the moral growth of the world, he declared, were the three great factors making for peace. Preparation for war encourages war, he added, those nations that spend most of their time getting ready for war, standing the best chance of going to war. He said it was possible to change the ideal of the world, just as can be done with an individual, and that the ideal of peace would prevail throughout the entire world after a time.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, spoke of the power of education, which he said was becoming more and more universal as the greatest preventive of war. Arthur E. Cull, executive director of the American Peace society, also spoke.

WATER LET INTO CANAL

Giant Blast at Panama
Demolished Dike

PANAMA, May 19.—The waters of the Pacific ocean were yesterday let into the Panama canal. A giant blast composed of 32,750 pounds of dynamite, was shot, demolishing the dike to the south of the Miraflores locks and allowing the water to flow into an extensive section in which excavations have practically been completed.

The blast was successful in every way, and the vibration was felt in Panama City as though there had been a slight earthquake.

At a meeting of the representatives of 12 Americans, Cristobal was selected as the place for the celebration of the Fourth of July.

She is Miss Emma De Velasco of this city. She won that enviable title when she was selected in a $100 beauty contest conducted by the Portola festival committee. She will be the poster girl for the festival, which will be held here in October next to celebrate the four

TEACHERS ORGANIZATION

Will Present "A Daughter of Today" at Lowell Opera House on Wednesday Evening, May 23

The executive officers of the Teachers' organization, which will present Miss Devine's play, "A Daughter of Today," Wednesday evening, May 23, have secured the Lowell Opera House for the performance, the playhouse having been found to be inadequate, in view of the advance demand for tickets. The play is in four acts, and has a good sprinkling of comedy, balanced by serious argument. The fact that it will be produced by talent entirely within the public school department, including the orchestra, adds to the interest of the production.

The company is a large one, containing many minor characters who are of great importance in their way. Not all of the names of those who will appear could be secured at this time, but the most important parts have been definitely assigned, together with many of the members of the supporting cast. Many of the names given here have not been previously announced.

Miss Mary F. Devine, the author of the play, will herself take the leading part—that of "Mary King," daughter of the president of the "Ozone Equal Suffrage Club." Miss Milner of the Normal school faculty is the president of the "Ozone" club, and the character of the suffragette's husband—and the father of "Mary"—is taken by John E. Barr, master of the Washington school. Abel R. Campbell of the school committee will play the part of "Paul Jonathan Blair," Mary's lover; and the part of "Charles Blair," Paul's father, who seriously interferes with smooth running of the course of true love, will be played by Wm. F. Thornton. Dr. Wm. Collins, of the staff of school physicians, assumes the role of the Callahan, Wm. P. Barry, Wm. S. family physician. "Dr. Esculapian Jones," "Kitty, the Maid," is Miss Eliza Reynolds and Christopher J. Hagan. The orchestra will be under the direction of Mr. Frederick O. Blunt, and many will comprise such well known musicians as Misses Tucke, Gardner, Gormley, Harris, McEvoy, and others.

Members of the "Ozone Equal Suffrage club" will comprise, with many others, Misses Maria Roberts, Leonora, and Misses Tucke, Gardner, Gormley, Harris, McEvoy, and others.

One of the scenes is in the governor's council chamber, and in this near-by all of the grammar masters of the city will appear. Charles W. Moray, master of the Highland school, takes the part of "Governor Fairbanks." Henry H. Harris is the governor's secretary; and Wm. Mack is sergeant-at-arms; members of the governor's council, Cyrus A. Durkin, Cyrus W. Irlis, Albert L. Bacheller, Cornelius F. Callahan, Wm. P. Barry, Wm. S. family physician. LOST HAY AND SLEIGH STREET CAR SPRINKLERS

Barn of J. C. Martel Was Partially Burned

J. C. Martel, a local shoe dealer, sustained quite a heavy loss as a result of a lively fire which caused considerable destruction in a barn in the rear of his home last evening. The fire was discovered a few moments before half past eight and there was a peculiar circumstance connected with the sounding of the alarm. The attempt to send in the alarm was made at exactly half past eight at which time the system is engaged in denoting the time and as a consequence, the box number did not ring. A telephone alarm was then sent in and the department responded with their usual celerity. The family was out when the flames were discovered and the blaze was seen by a neighbor. The flames were burst through the roof and the smoke was very dense. It appeared hopeless to attempt to save the property. Before getting under way, the fire had completely destroyed the roof and damaged other parts of the building besides burning a sleigh and a large quantity of hay which the building contained. In the lower portion of the place there was stored an automobile but this was removed before the flames could reach it. The loss of the sleigh and hay was not covered by insurance. The firemen worked strenuously for about an hour before the recall could finally be sounded. The damage in figures is not given.

Three Were Seen on the Streets Yesterday

Three street car sprinklers were put into service yesterday and therefore it was necessary to put up several of the electric cars for bid. As is customary each year when the sprinklers are put on, the position is given to the man who has been in the company's service the longest, providing he bids for the car. Each motorman has a privilege of bidding and this year Motorman Harry Davis was first choice as he has been employed by the street railway longer than any other man to put in a bid.

PLEASING RECEPTION

Held in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mullin of This City—Delightful Entertainment Given

A reception was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wedge, 80 Bartlett street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mullin, a recently married young couple. Mrs. Mullin was formerly Miss Minnie McSorley, a popular young lady of Centerville. An excellent supper was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Ball and Mr. Peter F. Ball of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Maguire of Providence, R. I. During the evening a fine musical program was enjoyed.

MICHAEL BOULGER DEAD

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Merrimack Square Theatre
In presenting "Wildfire," the $200 a week royalty play this week at the Merrimack Square theatre the management has indeed attempted an unprecedented undertaking. The fact that it is extremely late in the season and warm weather is fast approaching, the presentation of a heavy royalty piece like this would be deemed by most managers foolhardy. But Manager Carroll, aware of the fact that Lowell theatre-goers respond to the call of a good thing, no matter what the season may be, and with an excellent play capably handled by a competent company and elaborately staged, he has decided to tax to its utmost at all performances by patrons all anxious to see this, the best play of the season. Performances continuous. Seats now.

The Casino
Not for a moment since the Casino had its initial experience as a dance hall has its standard fallen. Recognizing the attitude of the public to well conducted enterprises, the owners spared no expense and left no stone unturned to make the Casino a high class amusement resort. That they succeeded was evident from the start, and is evident today. Hundreds of happy couples attend dancing every night and on Saturday afternoon under the Casino roof.

Stephalls Secret of Success
In her triplicate concert lectures to be given in this city on May 21 and 22 at the Y. M. C. A. association, Miss Sofia Stephall, an enthusiastic promoter of the work of the National Society for Brother Education comes to us, as a representative of this noted organization, and under the local auspices of the society.

The general plan of each program is a brief lecture followed by illustrative songs.

Stephalls is a most winning singer, who has won universal applause as a soloist, both in Europe and during her brief American tour.

Not only is she a highly gifted vocalist, but she is a rare woman and all-round musician, who is so devoted to her art that it is a part of her being, and she loses sight of self and is conscious only of the songs which she interprets with such unusual skill and ability.

She is wonderful as a singer, because she triumphs over herself, and singing with that depth of feeling that impresses a listener most thoroughly with her love of the art, she arouses the emotions and ennobles all she sings.

Infectious diseases reported: Typhoid fever, 2; scarlet fever, 2; diphtheria, 9; measles, 24; cerebro spinal meningitis, 2; tuberculosis, 2.

Pretty Birthday Party
About 20 of the friends of Miss Ella May Wightman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Wightman, 41 Cashin street, gathered at her home on Saturday afternoon to tender a reception and party in honor of her birthday anniversary. The party was arranged by Miss Wightman's parents and was a very pretty as well as a highly enjoyable event. The guests presented many beautiful remembrances of the occasion to their hostess and on departing, extended sincere wishes for happiness.

In the afternoon the young folk gathered on the lawn where games of various descriptions were played. Later, there was a phonograph concert besides a musical program rendered by the children themselves. Miss Neddy Boyd, of Canada, rendered piano and vocal solos to the delight of her hearers. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wightman, assisted by Mrs. J. Scagel and Mrs. J. McKinney. Mr. H. Seavey took a group picture of the gathering.

A FREE CONCERT
To Be Given at the Highland Congregational Church Wednesday Evening

A free concert will be given by the Men's club of the Highland Congregational church on Wednesday evening. The affair, it is believed, will be largely attended and a very interesting program has been prepared for the occasion by Mr. Thomas R. Parkinson.

MATRIMONIAL
A pretty marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon at St. Louis church, when Mr. Omar Ernest Allard and Miss Aurea Champagne, two popular young people of this city were united in the bonds of matrimony. The officiating clergyman was Rev. L. C. Beaudet, and the young couple were attended by Messrs. Jacques Allard and Alphonse Champagne. At the conclusion of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 33 Lilley avenue. The happy couple left on the 2:35 o'clock train for a brief honeymoon trip to Providence, R. I. They were the recipients of many costly gifts.

BILLERICA

The Ladies of the G. A. R., who will present a silk flag, to every Sunday school in the town before Memorial Day, presented three flags yesterday. Mrs. Sarah Murphy presented one to St. Anne's school and it was accepted with thanks by the Rev. S. H. Jobe; Mrs. Hallie Whitney delivered the flag to the Billerica Baptist church while at the Congregational church it was presented by Mrs. Francis Jaquith and accepted by the Rev. J. Harold Dale. Next Sunday flags will be presented to the North Billerica Baptist, St. Andrew's and the Unitarian church.

The T. R. & T. baseball team easily defeated Milford, N. H. team Saturday afternoon at the North Billerica baseball grounds by the score of 13 to 4. Both clubs battled hard. Cook, a new man on the T. R. & T. team, pitched a good game, keeping the hits well scattered.

The Mitchell school baseball team won from the Methuen high school team on Saturday afternoon by a score of 9 to 7. Both teams played well.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The devotion of the Forty Hours opened at the 9:30 mass at St. John's church, North Chelmsford yesterday morning. A high mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. E. T. Schofield. A special musical program was given by the church choir under the direction of Miss Gertrude Quigley. The solos of the mass were sustained by Misses Clara McCoy and Laura Mason. An instructive sermon on the solemnity of the feast was preached by the celebrant. Confessions were heard yesterday afternoon and last evening. Rev. Fr. Doherty, former curate of the parish, was present to assist at the service and he will remain until the devotion is closed tomorrow. A procession in honor of the Blessed Sacrament was held after the mass yesterday, the children of the Sunday school and the flower strikers accompanying the Blessed Sacrament. At the close of the mass the pastor took occasion to thank the Sisters of Notre Dame, who had charge of the procession, for the careful training of the children.

The masses were celebrated this morning at 6:30 by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield, 7 o'clock by Rev. E. C. Mitchell and the 7:30 mass by Rev. Fr. Doherty. The service will close at the 7:30 o'clock mass tomorrow morning.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Drop into our store today and let us tell you how we back our opinion with a money-back guarantee. Ask us also about D. D. D. Soap; it helps.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Drop into our store today and let us tell you how we back our opinion with a money-back guarantee. Ask us also about D. D. D. Soap; it helps.

MATRIMONIAL
A pretty marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon at St. Louis church, when Mr. Omar Ernest Allard and Miss Aurea Champagne, two popular young people of this city were united in the bonds of matrimony. The officiating clergyman was Rev. L. C. Beaudet, and the young couple were attended by Messrs. Jacques Allard and Alphonse Champagne. At the conclusion of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 33 Lilley avenue. The happy couple left on the 2:35 o'clock train for a brief honeymoon trip to Providence, R. I. They were the recipients of many costly gifts.

OPEN HEARINGS

Since the tariff bill passed through the house so victoriously, the strength of the opposition has been centered in a struggle to have it subject to open hearings in the senate. It was argued that by this means only could the various schedules be intelligently considered as the various interests to be effected would thus get their views before the people. The matter was brought to a head by an amendment formulated by Senators Penrose and LaFollette which on being voted on was defeated by a majority of five—a large majority considering the small democratic margin. The tariff bill, therefore, will go to the finance committee of the senate in the form in which it came from the house.

Opposition to the proposed open hearings was mainly based on the assumption that in proposing them the republicans were not entirely sincere and were actuated mainly by a desire to delay the proposed legislation, hoping by so doing to stir up an adverse attitude against the tariff among the people. The advocates of the open hearing policy gained nothing from the fact that their cause was so energetically championed by Senator Penrose, for ever since the publication of some letters that passed between him and a certain Mr. Archibald, he has not held a great amount of popular confidence. Those who attribute tariff opposition to a regret for the high protection which has made the government a shield for all kinds of private enterprises, some of them more or less shady, were not convinced of the contrary by the zeal of Mr. Penrose.

The main objection to open hearings was that they would retard the passing of the bill without having any direct result that would justify the delay. When the Underwood bill was being framed much time was given to a consideration of the various schedules and the party leaders considered such opposition then as would have been brought out if the open hearings prevailed. It would, then, have meant a repetition of much of the former procedure, and as all disinterested parties are hoping for a speedy passage of the bill that the country may quickly adjust itself to the new conditions, it is a matter for congratulation that the democratic leaders were endorsed in their determination to refer the Underwood tariff bill to the finance committee for the consideration without public hearings.

Undoubtedly a great fight in the senate will be looked for in the free wool and sugar schedules. The president has declared that he will not consider any compromise and the determination expressed by his words shows that his previous attitude was based on deep conviction. Thus far the democratic party has held together phenomenally and unless the unforeseen happens the bill is almost certain to pass in practically its present form. The democrats swept all opposition before them in the house and they have had the advantage so far in the preliminary skirmishes in the senate.

CHANGED METHODS

These are days of wonders, and the unexpected happenings that fill the news sheets daily are becoming so frequent that they take on the appearance of the ordinary affairs of life. Still, it is with a smile of incredulity and a slight raising of the brows the people of this country, particularly of New England, will receive the intelligence that Joseph E. Elor of the I. W. W. organization has advised some strikers in New York that to succeed they must avoid anything that savors of violence. Incidentally, he said that a "capitalistic" press was watching the deeds of the society and that to obtain their ends they must not give that press the opportunity to malign them or to create an adverse sentiment to them by a continuous publication of their lawless acts.

If this report is true—and it is to be sincerely hoped that it is—it is a triumphant argument for those who hold that the power of the press is one of the greatest powers for good or evil in this or any other country. If the imputation of "capitalistic" is true of the papers which denounced the methods of the I. W. W., then the entire press of the country is "capitalistic" because wherever they have spread their agitators they have been denounced for their bad influence and extreme theories. Sooner or later it must dawn on Mr. Elor and the other agitators that when they undertake to overturn the social order against the force of public opinion as reflected in the press of the country, they reckon without their host, and they will realize that to bring about the ideal conditions which they hold out to their deluded followers, they must rid their propaganda of the objectionable features which are opposed to the best in American institutions.

If the I. W. W. can conform itself to law and order and keep its activity from running contrary to the orders of the authorities wherever it goes, it can do a great deal of good. Even in the most violent and extreme doctrines there are ideas which may be used for the uplift of humanity. The condition of the workers of the world is not perfect and as in everything else a continual agitation can bring about good results if it does not oppose all legitimate authority. But it will take far more than one newspaper report to convince the American public that the I. W. W. is at last conforming itself to the laws. The people will welcome the change, but they will also remember the scriptural allusion which asks if the leopard can change his spots. It is, however, encouraging to find that even Mr. Elor has seen the error of his ways. The people he leads are sorely in need of a wise and conservative counselor who will direct them how to better their condition while strictly observing the law.

BOY TRAVELERS

The energetic and original mayor of Boston has just returned from a trip to South America, which was originated by the Boston chamber of commerce as an aid to better international relations between ourselves and the people of the Latin countries, and his first recommendation is that the Boston merchants should make it possible for 100 boys to travel yearly on a tour of inspection of the larger cities of this country. That travel is an education has been publicly asserted frequently by all know, but we also know that many look upon it as anything but a method of amusement, and miss the real value of its influence, especially to the young.

Travel is not an education merely in the sense that it acquaints us with the lives, customs, and habits of other people, or makes us familiar with what they have achieved in the fields of science and art. From the point of view of trade and commerce, it is very broadening as it brings vividly home to us the teeming life all around us which furnishes the thousand opportunities for business expansion. One who has lived in an inland city such as ours can form no idea of the vast extent of international trade until he sees the quays and wharves of seaside cities, but when he once has seen the lines of barges and freight steamers, he finds additional inspiration in the hundreds of wheels which revolve in his native town.

It is not within the province of all to travel extensively, but it is possible to almost everyone to take short trips to neighboring cities in summer, and the educational value of such trips is enormous. Those who remain in one neighborhood become provincial, and their minds are in danger of becoming inactive because of monotony. The young, particularly, are observant, and they are quick to see the broader outlook which travel gives. It is to be hoped then that Mayor Fitzgerald's suggestion will be heeded outside of Boston.

DISTRIBUTION OF IMMIGRATION

One valuable lesson to be gained from the California protest against the holding of lands by the Japanese, is the danger of unequal distribution of immigrants. Most of the Japanese in this country are in the western state and the result has been a strong anti-Japanese feeling there which has been growing, for years, and of which the present agitation is the culmination. If the tendency of immigrants in other parts of the country can be taken for a guide, it is probable that there is a conservatism among the Japanese which, although blameless in itself, does not tend to improve the present situation.

It is not good for the country or ultimately for the immigrants themselves, that they should crowd into any one locality. Because of the very cosmopolitan character of modern America there is room for all people, but they ought to become identified with American ideas and strive to conform themselves with American ways, at least in matters of trade and commerce. When they collect in large numbers in any one section, there is danger of the sectional spirit which is not to be desired, and the corresponding distrust and dislike which this habit occasions will work to the disadvantage of any people in seeking to advance themselves. In New England it is not thought desirable that any one race should identify itself with a particular industry or wish to live in one particular city, and this is the condition which, in California, has brought about the strong anti-Japanese sentiment which has resulted in the present problem.

WATER ESSENTIAL

No method of street cleaning is adequate in the more used sections of the city, where people pass and re-pass constantly, unless such parts are regularly flushed with water. This is particularly true in summer when the dust is thick on the streets and when every slight breeze blows it in swirling clouds—to the discomfort of the people who are obliged to suffer the inconvenience.

It is also true that where people congregate, such as at Merrimack square where hundreds wait for cars daily, there is a great deal of expectation, and in the interests of up-to-date sanitation such portions of the streets should be washed, as no amount of sweeping will give the necessary cleansing. The cost would not be great, and the need certainly justifies the slight expense. There ought to be some arrangement between Commissioners Donnelly and Barrett by which some portions of the city streets could be regularly flooded, particularly in the coming warm season. Otherwise it might be well to arrange with the Locks and Canals company to have the watering cars, if not the cars, draw their supply from the canals.

In the case of Robert F. Marden appointed county commissioner, it would seem that the office sought the man it would be refreshing if some other high offices were filled in a similar way rather than as a result of a disgraceful scrap in which political pull is the deciding factor.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Bryan Was Right

Johnstown Democrat: The Pittsburgh Post has had a hard time following Bryan. It has always followed him—sometimes with a club to be sure—but always within a range for a brickbat or a bouquet. Just now it is rather inclined to be friendly to the Nebraska who has become secretary of state. The Post calls attention to the fact that 25 years ago Bryan started his fight for the direct election of United States senators. Much water has gone through the political mills since then. A lot of men who were in public life have disappeared. Bryan has been condemned to obscurity time and time again and yet, as the Post remarks, the battle has been won and right on the job to help issue the last paper necessary to the formal ratification of the amendment is none other than Mr. Bryan himself. The Post says that it all goes to show what perseverance will do. Perseverance is all right—but a whole lot of men persevere in the wrong. The men who opposed the idea of electing senators by a direct vote of the people were a persevering lot. They were wrong. Bryan was right, and there you are.

Polluted Honor

New Bedford Standard: A deed of political honor that should not pass unnoticed is that of H. Olin Young, republican congressman from Michigan, who resigns his seat which he declares he is convinced he has no moral right to retain. He was "elected" by throwing out 458 votes cast for his bull moose opponent, but in a case it is at least only fair that there should be a new election, the error

QUIT CALOMEL!

Thousands are Turning From This Dangerous Drug

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after-effects of calomel. Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-oil colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel. They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

A Vigorous Sick Man

Fall River Globe: Charles W. Morse has recovered sufficiently from that fatal malady with which he was said to have been afflicted when he was an inmate of the Atlantic penitentiary and because of which he was given his liberty in order that he might be hurried to his home to die, to be able to complete arrangements for the organization of a company to operate a fleet of steamers between Atlantic ports and the West Indies with the ultimate expectation of establishing a service, via the Panama canal, to the Pacific coast. Quite an enterprise for a man to have promoted and brought to a successful culmination who, according to the verdict of the doctors, should have furnished a job for the undertaker several months ago.

Gov. Johnson

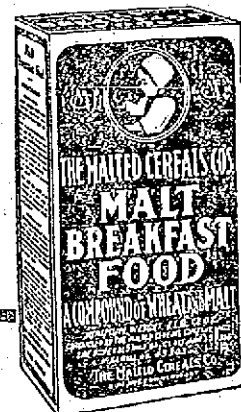

Salem News: The people of the United States are enabled to make a much juster estimate of the real worth and standing of Governor Johnson of California than when he focussed a portion of public attention upon himself as the running mate of Theodore Roosevelt in the national campaign of 1912. It is safe to say that in proportion as his figure has dwindled, as a national character, so has contempt for him increased among millions of his countrymen. As the News would ever be charitable, we shall not undertake to question his sincerity, but rather to call his judgment into account.

Brooklyn Enterprise: A young automobilist in Chicago has a new one. When arrested there for running a man down he impatiently exclaimed: "The man had no business stopping to stand in the street. If he had stayed on the sidewalk he would not have been hit." An auto driver may occasionally send his machine crashing on to a sidewalk or across one and all somebody in its path, but a pedestrian has no business to cross a street without giving at least a day's warning.

AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

300 Children Received First Communion

A very pretty ceremony was held at St. Patrick's yesterday morning, when about 300 children, boys and girls, received their first communion. The ceremony took place at the seven o'clock mass which was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Kerrigan.

The girls were neatly attired in dresses of white and wore veils and flower wreaths, while the boys were clad in black suits. The spectacle was a most pleasing one as the children approached the altar to receive the sacrament. The congregation was very large and during the service appropriate hymns were sung by the school choir.

In the afternoon at four o'clock the baptismal promises were renewed and the communicants were enrolled in the scapular. Fr. Kerrigan was the officiating clergyman and the service closed with benediction.

Preparations are now being made for the annual Corpus Christi procession in St. Patrick's parish. The feast falls on Thursday next, but the observance will be postponed until next Sunday afternoon, when a procession will be held. The ceremony will take place at 2 o'clock, weather permitting, and will pass around the usual course. The participants in the procession besides the officiating clergyman and their assistants, will be the members of the sanctuary choir, and the members of the various societies and sodalities of the church.

This procession is a great event in the parish and the societies of the church are endeavoring to make it one of the most splendid ever held in this city. The grounds as well as the church will be elaborately decorated for the occasion, and an altar will be erected in the yard of the academy, where solemn benediction will be held.

St. Peter's

Rev. W. George Mullin celebrated high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan preached the sermon. A trio consisting of Miss Vera Moody, Miss Gertrude Keleher and Mr. James E. Donnelly rendered "Ave Maria Stella" at the offertory.

Wednesday evening there will be a meeting of the Married Ladies' sodality; Thursday evening a meeting of the society for the propagation of the faith; and on Friday evening a meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual May party of the Holy Name society in Lincoln hall on Friday evening next, and it promises to be quite a social event. President James W. Cook is general manager and Mr. Joseph A. Sanborn, floor marshal.

THREE NEWLY ORDAINED PRIESTS

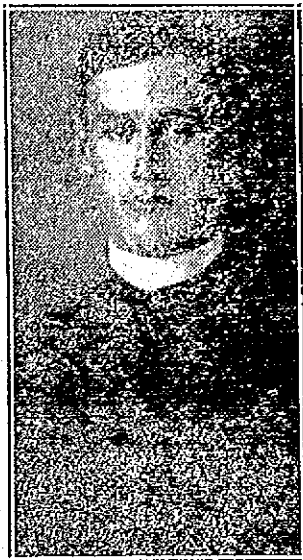

Celebrated First Mass With Great Rejoicing by Friends—Rev. Frs. McCartin, Bolduc and Bradley

At the Immaculate Conception church yesterday the 11 o'clock mass was celebrated by Rev. James J. McCartin, O. M. I., who was ordained to the priesthood at Brighton on Saturday. The announcement had thronged the church to its capacity, for the young priest is well known in the parish, having passed his earliest years there. In the front pews of the church sat his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCartin, of 116 Pleasant street, and a large number of relatives and friends. Principal Greene of the Moody school, one of his old teachers was among those present.

With Fr. McCartin in the celebration of the solemn high mass were Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., as assistant, Rev. Terence Lottus, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. James McCartin, O. M. I., a cousin of the young celebrant as sub-deacon, and within the sanctuary sat Rev. Lawrence Tighe, Rev. Denis Sullivan, and Rev. Owen McQuaid.

The special music for the occasion was particularly fine. Turner's St. Cecilia's mass, was sung and Mrs. Frank McCartin sang a beautiful "O Salutaris." At those parts of the service where the organ accompaniment was dispensed with the voices of the choir blended beautifully, and the effect was reverently solemn. Before the service the organist, Mrs. Hugh Walker played several selections including the stirring "Jesu Christ, Elect of David." The sermon was preached by Rev. Denis Sullivan, O. M. I., who took for his text the story of the priest-hood with special reference to the newly ordained priest. The sermon was masterful and eloquent and when he spoke of the struggles and hopes of the Catholic parents who wish to see their son a priest he reached a depth of tenderness that brought tears to the eyes of many in the congregation. In opening Fr. Sullivan said: "When I look over the great assemblage gathered into this church, I cannot help but feel that you have come here especially to honor the young priest who is here on our altar with freshly consecrated hands raised to call down the blessings of God on this parish. And it is fitting indeed that we do him honor; for honor is given on earth to all who symbolize authority. We honor kings; we honor the president; we honor our parents. So do we come here today to honor him whom the Lord has chosen for the great and noble mission of the Catholic priesthood, vested with the sacred authority of Christ."

Fr. Sullivan then dwelt on the functions of the Catholic priest and the sacrifices he must make in order to follow the commands of Christ. He told of the duties that will take him to the bedside of the dying, the aide of the penitent, the abode of pestilence and death. He then spoke of the joy that the occasion must have wakened in the hearts of his parents who saw him enter the august sacrifice of the mass, who knelt to receive blessings from the consecrated hands which they had often guided in infancy. Fr. Sullivan said in part: "From the bottom of my heart I offer to you happy parents my own congratulations and the congratulations of the congregation and the church." of the people of the Immaculate Conception parish who rejoice with you. The holy joy of this occasion more than offsets the long days of waiting, the long years of prayer and hope. You now see your desires fulfilled, and the son you have given to the service of God is here to invoke the blessings of God which your sacrifice deserves. Then, turning to Fr. McCartin, he said: "And you young priest, in this solemn hour when your heart is teeming with high hopes and holy resolves, do not forget the dear ones who are here today to see you officiate on the altar of God—and do not forget the people of this parish of whose faith you have strong proof. May they always have a warm place in your heart."

REV. JAMES J. MCCARTIN, O. M. I.

After mass Fr. McCartin gave his blessing to the people of the congregation. It was announced that the devotion of the forty hours will begin at the Immaculate Conception church on Friday morning, and end on the Sunday following. On Sunday evening the annual Corpus Christi procession will be held in which many of the parish societies will take part.

Rev. Fr. Bradley

Rev. James Joseph Bradley, who was ordained to the priesthood at Brighton on Saturday celebrated his first mass at the seminary on Sunday and this morning he celebrated mass in the private chapel of the Dominican sisters in Centralville. Among those present were his mother, Mrs. Rose Bradley, of 214 Lakeview avenue; his sisters, Miss Annie Bradley and Mrs. Thomas McCann, and his grandmother, Mrs. Bridget Golden, and a number of his most intimate friends. Fr. Bradley was assisted by Rev. John J. Shaw, who after the ceremony made a brief address referring to the joy of the whole parish on seeing one of their sons a priest, after a career of such brilliancy. "The bride service," said Fr. Shaw, "is beautiful and inspiring but far more beautiful and wonderful is the priest's first mass among his own people." He congratulated the mother and relatives of Fr. Bradley on behalf of all the people of St. Michael's parish. After mass the immediate relatives and friends gathered in the parlor of the convent and received the blessing of the newly ordained priest. Here an informal talk was again given by Fr. Shaw, who was assured by Fr. Bradley's mother that it was one of the happiest days of her life.

Rev. Fr. Bolduc's First Mass

Rev. Joseph Arthur Bolduc, O. M. I., who was ordained to the priesthood Saturday at St. John's seminary in Brighton by Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, D. D., celebrated his first mass at St. Joseph's church, yesterday morning. Fr. Bolduc had been a member of St. Joseph's church for a number of years, having received his first communion in this old temple. It was also in this church that he received the sacrament of confirmation, and his first wish after being ordained was to celebrate his first mass there.

It was an event of rare occurrence and accordingly the church in Lee street was filled to the doors long before the time set for the service, 10:30 o'clock. Relatives and friends of the young priest flocked into the church, and when the service opened many were standing for lack of seats. Extra chairs were placed in the aisles, while next to the altar rail seats had been provided for the family of the young clergyman and a delegation from St. Joseph's college alumni, which consisted of the following: Wilfred R. Calais, Jr., Henri V. Charbonneau, Esq., Joseph F. Montminy, Roderique E. Jodoin, Edmond S. Desmarais, Arthur L. Enn and Arthur St. Hilaire. The altar was beautifully decorated for the occasion, it being covered with potted plants and flowers, while hundreds of incense lights illuminated the sanctuary. The spectacle was most impressive.

Previous to the mass four former classmates of Fr. Bolduc called on him in the sacristy and presented him a handsome gold pax, after which he bestowed upon them his blessing. The donors were: Edgar Dubuc, Tancred L. Blanchette, Emile Gagnon and Arthur St. Hilaire. The delegation from St. Joseph's college alumni were also given the priest's blessing.

Rev. Fr. Bolduc was assisted at the mass by Rev. J. R. Jalbert, O. M. I., another Lowell boy, who was made deacon Saturday, who acted as deacon and Rev. A. Bachand, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, who served as sub-deacon. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of the parish, and a former teacher of the young priest, while the latter was at the Holy Angels college in Buffalo, N. Y.

The sermon, a forceful one, was preached by Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., who took for his text "Tu Es Sacerdos in Eternum." The preacher told how the occasion was dear to him inasmuch as the young celebrant was the first of his pupils to be ordained. He also spoke of the joy existing in the parish on the event of the first mass of one who for years attended the parochial school of the parish and who also served as an altar boy in the same church. He is now celebrating his first mass.

He paid a flattering tribute to the young clergyman and referred to him as a bright, intelligent young man, and congratulated his parents for their happiness on this special day. He then explained the duties of a priest, especially a member of the Oblate order, emphasizing the fact that Fr. Bolduc may be called upon as others have been to preach the gospel in far away missions. Fr. Watelle concluded by telling his brother his mission was now to save souls and said he hoped in his prayers he would never forget his dear mother, father, brothers and sisters, as well as the members of his parish, and the members of the Oblate community. The choir under the direction of Telephonie Male sang the harmonized mass of the second tone, Mrs. Joseph A. Bernard presiding at the organ. The solos were sustained by Messrs. Arthur Giroux, J. E. Nolet, E. J. Larochelle, Henri Wilbrenner, Dr. George E. Calise. At the offertory Miss Clemence Stuard of St. Louis' church sang in fine voice Chass's "Ave Maria," and at the close of the mass Mr. Ernest J. Dupont rendered in a most pleasing way a hymn appropriate to the occasion.

At the close of the mass the executive committee of St. Joseph's college alumni held a brief meeting and it was unanimously voted to present Rev. Fr. Bolduc, O. M. I., who is a member of the alumni, a manual of church canon law and a pocket missal, the same to be purchased and presented by the chairman of the association, Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. I.

In the afternoon the young priest repaired to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zephyrin Bolduc, 111 Pleasant street, where a family dinner was enjoyed, several relatives of the young priest coming from other cities to congratulate the young clergyman and also to receive his blessing. Fr. Bolduc returned to the Oblate novitiate in Tewksbury today, where he will remain another year to complete his theological studies.

He received a compound fracture of the right hand by a flying piece of iron. He received a compound fracture of the bone. Both men were treated at the Emergency hospital.

WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE

George Couzoules is Not in the Fight

DOES NOT ASPIRE TO PRESIDENCY

There Are 67 Candidates For President of Greek Community—Dutch Room to be Installed in Lowell

Mr. George Couzoules, a former president of the Greek community in this city, announced Saturday that he would not be a candidate for the position of president of the community as it was previously announced. Mr. Couzoules was urged to run for the place by many of his friends, but on account of his many occupations he declined the offer, and although taking a keen interest in the community's affairs, he says he could not devote the time necessary to fulfill the position in a successful way.

The election will be held on Memorial day at the Greek school, where all the members of the community will assemble to elect 21 directors. Those elected will meet ten days later and choose their own officers. There are candidates galore, and all are doing strenuous work to be elected. So far 67 prominent men of the community have announced their candidacy and it is presumed more will come out of the dark before election day.

One of the main reasons why Mr. Couzoules will not be candidate is the fact that he is now in another enterprise, that of installing a Dutch room in this city. The same is now being constructed in the brick property of Mr. Keefe at 507 Market street, and when completed will cost approximately $2,000.

The room which is an addition to the said property will be 60 feet in length and 40 feet in width. It will be one of the prettiest places in Lowell and the only one of its kind in the city. The walls will be ornamented with rich paintings, presenting views of several European countries. This work will be done by a clever brush artist from Washington, D. C., Mr. Frank Graham who is expected to arrive in this city in a few days.

There will be room for sixty people and ladies and gentlemen will be admitted. Mr. Couzoules stated this morning he expects to have the place ready for occupancy in about three weeks, when a general opening to which the public will be invited, will be held. An orchestra will be on hand and souvenirs will be given the guests present.

The chef attached to the place is coming direct from Athens, while the head waiter will be James Thompson, who for a number of years was connected with the Waverly hotel in this city. The place will be open from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m.

The assembly room at the State Normal school was the scene, Saturday afternoon, of the 18th annual reunion of the Lowell Normal School Alumni association. The reunion was attended by about 200 members. A banquet was served at 2 o'clock. Miss Iva Connell, president of the association, opened the post-prandial exercises and introduced Superintendent Hugh J. Molloy as toastmaster. Officers were elected as follows: President, Miss Grace Garvey, 1908; vice president, Miss Julia Driscoll, secretary, Miss Mabel Haggerty; treasurer, Mr. John F. Barr.

Manager Gray has been summoned to today's session of the superior court as a witness for the defense in the case of Thomas Dowd vs. The New Bedford B. R. club. Dowd claims that the Whalers still owe him for the balance of the salary which would have come to him if he stayed at the helm of their baseball team during the season of 1911 instead of being released. The plaintiff asserts that he was engaged for the entire season and therefore should collect the salary. In Manager Gray's absence today President Andrew Roach will be in charge of the team in Lynn.

Today's game is the only contest away from home this week. Lynn here tomorrow. Hugh Duffy's team at Spaulding Park Wednesday and Thursday, Fall River with us Friday and Haverhill's Lawrence leaders will be the attraction on Saturday. The fans will have a chance to rally their appetite for baseball this week!

Lippincott sprang a great surprise on the athletic world by his performance last Saturday in the dual meet between Cornell and Penn. His winning of the 220 yards and placing in the hundred was expected but when he went out after these events, and beat Costens in the quarter his name was straightway placed in the University Hall of Fame. The timers gave Heller of Cornell 9.4 in the hundred on a track covered with mud and water and it was only an accident in starting which deprived Penn's great sprinter of the remarkable time given out for his Saturday performance. It is safe to say that Lippincott can negotiate the distance in 9.25.

The crowd which witnessed Saturday's game between the Burkes and The Beverly Progressives were vastly surprised at the easy brand of ball put up by both teams. If Manager Coughlin can keep this aggregation together he is sure to make a success of semi-pro ball in Lowell.

Although Dartmouth is expected to walk away with the New England Intercollegiate there are sure to be some stellar performances made by representatives of other colleges before the meet is brought to a close. The Green team is pinning its faith to Captain Wright in the pole vault, Englehorn in the weight events, Olson in the sprints and Enright in the jumps. The meet will be held for the first time in the Harvard Stadium.

A Lynn paper says: Down in Brockton they're willing to match Dowd against Miller of Lowell in quality of work around second base. The Brocktonian is making a fine showing this year.

I don't suppose that they would have ever made that assertion if they thought it would blow back to Lowell. There is absolutely no comparison between the two second sackers as anyone who has seen both perform will readily testify. Miller covers more ground, is an easier and better thrower and can club the point for many more points than Dowd. All of which does not say that the Brockton second baseman is no ball player but simply that Miller is his superior in every department of the game.

The umpire situation in the New England league is the worst that it has been for several years. Out of the four regulars, Bannon, Rudderham, O'Brien and White, the first two are the only ones who have a chance with the fans and their works is not up to the standard that should be set by the New England league. O'Brien and White have made some horrible decisions thus far. O'Brien being the most hopeless piece of baseball machinery that we have ever seen.

The twelve round fight Friday night between Young Stone and Young Boyle for the championship of the city is attracting considerable attention from those interested in the mitt game. Stone was the winner of the last bout which was a 10 round affair but it is claimed by Boyle's friends that the latter held Stone too cheaply. The scrap this week should prove a good one.

The Red Sox have again met with an accident. Larry Gardner sprained his ankle badly in Saturday's contest and although no bones are broken, it will be over a week before he can again get into a baseball uniform. He is on his way to Boston now, his locomotion being aided by a pair of crutches.

RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE

Secretary of Teachers' Federation Says It is of the Utmost Importance.

Howard W. Poor, secretary of the Massachusetts Teachers' federation, discussing the act to provide a retirement allowance for teachers, says:

"This act, with the proposed amendments harmonizes the conflicting interests that have arisen because of certain local teachers' pensions, and there should be no further objection on that score.

"It is becoming more difficult each year to secure and retain good teachers, and Massachusetts is obliged to compete with other states that pay pensions. New Jersey has a retirement system, and Massachusetts is constantly losing highly skilled teachers to that commonwealth. Maine and Vermont have recently adopted pension systems, and we are likely to draw fewer teachers from these states than in the past, which is to say that the sources of supply have become somewhat diminished.

"The advantages of local pensions accrue only to a small number of communities, and a state system is needed to insure equal benefits to the school systems of all the towns and cities.

"Not many school committees have the hardihood of heart to discharge old and worn-out teachers when such discharge means poverty, distress or charity, and the public sentiment would support such action in few communities, yet it is an injustice to the children to retain as teachers those who have become superannuated. A pension system, which offers the means of retiring such teachers without hardship, is a just and humane solution of the problem as evidenced in Maryland, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia, New York, Maine and Vermont, whose legislatures have established state pension systems for teachers.

"Hundreds of teachers in Massachusetts work for an annual wage that is less than that paid to the day laborer, and the majority of teachers have no family to take care of them in their old age as has the laborer. It is proper then to look upon the pension as a deferred salary, or an added emolument, which will have a tendency to keep good teachers in Massachusetts, and which will be an incentive for the best teachers to seek employment here.

"President Pritchett, of the Carnegie foundation, has pronounced this bill, with amendments, the best pension system for teachers yet proposed. "It is hoped, therefore, that Massachusetts will not long remain behind other commonwealths in enacting this important legislation."

SUFFRAGETTES' TEAM
Girls Climb Into Amateur Baseball

Everybody get this one, here is a bunch of the fairer sex getting the fever. Any young girls of 10-11 years of age desiring a game are requested to communicate with Florence E. Bennett, 51 Cambridge street, Pardon us, girls, but honest isn't this a jolly you're handing us now? But if you get a game, keep it under your hats, or I should say rats, for if the amateur boys' team gets wind of it, all their games will be postponed and you will have a record attendance. We should worry and waste the umpire! Another notch up for the suffragettes.

Diamond at Shedd Park
The park department of the city has decided to lay out a regulation size baseball field in Shedd park. In the ground used last winter as a skating rink and this news will be received with joy by hundreds of young Ty Cobbs. This diamond will be a great addition to the city's sporting resources and according to the general opinion, is worth the money. At present accommodations for the amateurs are limited and for this reason many games will have to be postponed or cancelled. This diamond will be ready at an early date and there will be two special officers in charge.

The Young Howards want to play any 11 year old team; call or write 115 Howard street, Hyman Golden.

The Wilders' Reply

There is nothing like having both sides of a story and we are glad to see that the Wilder A. C. responded to our request to explain the matter of double crossing the Oreoles. Their explanation calls for another on the part of the Oreoles and we wonder if they have any more to say. J. Scully, manager of the Wilder A. C. called upon the writer and in the course of the conversation said: "The Wilder A. C. is not afraid of the Oreoles who claim that we objected to a certain batter. The Wilders challenged the Oreoles for a game to be played on the Burnside grounds on Saturday, May 2 and the Oreoles after accepting, failed to put in an appearance. The Wilders, moreover, do not desire to give the Oreoles another chance to quit because they want to arrange contests with teams who are not afraid to appear on the field to play. Now we hear that the Wilders are a bunch of ball tossers and we would like to get a game with them if they are not quitters." Come on, White Sox, show your sporting blood now and send us your account of the game. Write to J. Scully, 26 Adams street.

Want to Play White Sox

The West Ends of Centralville are the third team who want to play the White Sox and they ask for the Memorial Day date on the Bunker Hill grounds. The manager can be found any night in L-street between seven and eight o'clock. Just ask for J. Kilbride, everybody knows him. But be sure and get there before eight o'clock for his training schedule calls for his being in bed at that time.

Get Busy, Riley!

The Unions express a desire to arrange a game with the team led by Leo Riley for the 11th championship of the city. Manager Sullivan or Captain McGrath would like to meet this Mr. Riley and arrange a game. Address 323 Varnum street or 10 Webster avenue.

Tanglefoot Some Player

That outfit with the musical name of Hinky Dinks want to play the White Sox on the Bunker Hill grounds. The Hinky Dinks were cooking up some comedy for their challenge in the business office of The Sun last night when the writer happened along and the party broke up. They had started the lineup and the first name was "Tanglefoot Campbell, catcher." We are sorry that they did not finish it for it would have been good. Every time Tanglefoot starts after a foul fly one of his shoes gets caught in his pocket and after the mixup, it requires the entire team with the assistance of spectators to untie Tanglefoot's legs and get him to looking a regular fellow again. He can't hit, and he can't judge a high ball (no, we do not mean one of the wet kind) any more than an Irishman could be bookkeeper in a Chinese laundry, and as for hitting, the only way he can connect with a ball is to kick it. Aside from that, however, he is a good ball player and his right position is behind the bat—how far behind the bat we decline to say.

Get Together, Boys

Here are those Oreoles and the Wilder A. C. again. The Oreoles want to play the Wilders on the North common or the Burnside street grounds on next Saturday. They also want to play the White Sox on the morning of Memorial Day. The Oreoles and Wilders have been talking considerable, each telling what they will do to the other but they have also been running away from each other. Now is their chance to get together.

Silver Cup to Winner

The result of the game between the Greenhaile and Colburn school teams was 9-4 in favor of the latter. This is in the grammar school league, organized by Mr. Williams of the Y. M. C. A. and the winning team will be awarded a silver cup.

Eagles Fly With Game

We hear that the Eagles handed out defeat to the Beacon Juniors by the score of 19 to 10. The Beacons must have played with one hand to let that bunch of bluffers trim them.

Walkers Had to Beat It

In a game between the Clinton A. C. and the Walkers, the former were the winners by a score of 13 to 9. The two teams will clash again on next Saturday morning at ten o'clock on the Clinton's grounds. The players are under 14 years of age.

Algonquins Walloped

The Athletics walloped the Algonquins by the melody of 15 to 11 and are now so puffed up about it that they challenge any 13 year old team. They sent in their lineup but we could not read the names, and consequently could not print them. Manager of the Athletics, get a typewriter. Teams wishing a game write 21 Franklin

YAMADA EXPECTS TO WIN
BILLIARD TITLE FROM HOPPE

NEW YORK, May 19.—Koji Yamada, the Japanese expert, will play Willie Hoppe for the 182 balk line billiard championship in New York May 27. The contest promises to be unusually interesting. Both of the principals are brilliant exponents of the intricacies and beauties of balk line billiards. Hoppe is the more resourceful, Yamada the more spectacular. While the champion gathers carousals all over the street. He signed the letter but we could not read that either.

C. M. A. C. Defeated

The Buntings trimmed the C. M. A. C. aggregation Saturday by the score of 12 to 6. The fielding features were contributed by W. O'Brien in the left garden and the battery work of Johnson and Murphy was exceptionally classy. The winning team proved too much for the North End aggregation, both in hitting and fielding and the victory was a well earned one. The C. M. A. C. outfit is by no means strong and were far from being completely outclassed in this contest.

The Tigers Won

The Tigers of North Billerica won their sixth straight game of the season Saturday when they defeated the Lowell Americans in a game marked by brilliant fielding by both teams. Both pitchers worked steady and kept the hits well scattered. The score was: Tigers 3, Lowell Americans 2.

Batteries: Tigers, Constantineau and Sullivan; Lowell Americans Shomlon and Therring.

AT THE CHURCHES

Girls' Friendly Society and Choir of St. Anne's Church Held Procession Last Night

The members of the Girls' Friendly Society, together with the choir of St. Anne's church, formed a procession last night in the choir room and proceeded to the front entrance of the church and up the center aisle to the altar steps. Besides the processional cross the choir carried the banner of the church, side by side with the national colors.

Rev. Appleton Grannis preached a short sermon from the text, "For Their Sakes I Sanctify Myself." The sermon was very interesting and instructive.

EIGHT TO FOUR WAS THE SCORE

Lowell, With a New Pitcher, Won Over Brockton—Grays Made Eighteen Hits

With the newest acquisition to her pitching staff, Henderson, in the box, and Monahan playing in the position vacated by Smoyer, Lowell succeeded in battling out an 8 to 4 victory over Brockton Saturday. Henderson allowed Brockton only six scattered hits. Brockton started the scoring setting one man across the plate in the first inning. In the fourth Lowell scored two runs and added two more in the fifth. In the seventh and eighth the visitors managed to add four more runs to their total by timely hitting and good base running. Four Lowell baserunners were thrown out at the plate.

Every man on the Lowell team got a hit, eighteen safeties being the total number of bingles collected by Lowell's Gray's outfit. Ave and Lavigne each knocked out three hits, two of Ave's being for two bases. Henderson gave eight free transportation tickets, made a wild pitch and hit one man. In a close game his wildness would have been costly.

Lavigne caught a great game, having five assists and three putouts to his credit. Magee made two wonderful one hand catches in left field which cut off sure runs for Brockton. The score:

PRESIDENT WILSON FIRM

Stand on Wool and Sugar

Brings Confidence

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The effect of President Wilson's public declaration that there would be no compromise on free wool and free sugar in three years in the new tariff bill has been the subject of constant discussion since the chief executive made his pronouncement in the presence of assembled newspaper correspondents last week.

Administration leaders declare that the president's vigorous assertion has served to strengthen the party lineup in the senate and they point to the vote on the question of public hearings of the tariff bill as an indication of the solidarity of the majority.

So strong is the feeling, so strongly in the face of the tremendous lobby influence that completely surrounds the capitol, the legislative air was surcharged with uncertainty. On every hand was heard the report that the finance committee was planning to put a duty on wool or to cut out the three year free sugar provision and to leave sugar at the end of a three year period with a small tariff.

So thick and fast did the rumors fly that they penetrated the executive office and the president himself began to get a bit dubious. Then it was that he decided that a little tightening of the party ropes would do no harm. Taking a firm grip on the executive end of the string, he led to capitol hill he called in the correspondents and in their presence gave a strong pull. Up to that time several democrats had been reported to be wavering on the subject of public hearings which would mean prolongation of tariff discussion with additional time for lobby manipulation and for activity by the republican opposition. At least five democrats were considering voting for the Penrose-La Follette amendment. But when the president reaffirmed his determination to stand by his schedules which he virtually dictated into the tariff bill, only Senators Randall and Thornton of Louisiana broke through the party lines to remain outside until the end.

Another phase of the tariff discussion in the senate served as a further indicator of the exact situation. That was the interpretation of the democratic platform as relating to free sugar, given by Senator Oille James of Kentucky, the spokesman for the administration. When the Louisiana senators attempted to put President Wilson and the party on record as opposed to free sugar, the executive head of the party took notice again and on Friday morning Senator James delivered what amounted to a flat denial of the allegations made by the insurgent democrats who are fighting to break up the majority on the sugar schedule.

Senator James declared that the party did favor free sugar; that it campaigned on that issue, and, with the knowledge of the president, he could truthfully assert that Woodrow Wilson ever said that he opposed free sugar. Again, the administration scored.

Now the democrats of the senate have the tariff bill to themselves. For two or perhaps three weeks the bill will be in the hands of the finance committee and other scheduled matters may be altered. The assurance has gone out that no change in wool or sugar will be recommended when the bill reaches the party caucus. There, behind closed doors, the democratic senators will have their final conference on the bill. The caucus, it is understood, will be a binding one. Western senators who would like to see a tariff on wool and those who want a change in sugar will make their last stand. There are some who believe that some change in one schedule or the other will eventuate, while others maintain that no change will be made and that more than one other senator will join the Louisiana exiles outside the party lines. That would leave the majority in a safe position.

ANTI-ALIEN LAND BILL SIGNED

MEETING OF COUNTY
COMMISSIONERS HELDIn Lowell Today—Propose to Build Sewer at County Train-
ing School, No. Chelmsford

The county commissioners, Messrs. Gould, Williams and Marden, the latter from Lowell, held a meeting at the court house in Gorham street, this city, this morning, and the principal questions were the project of laying a granite sidewalk opposite the court house in Gorham street, and also the construction of a sewer at the county training school in North Chelmsford, the same to run into the Lowell sewer probably at the corner of Brattle and Middlesex streets.

The commissioners, Mr. Gould presiding, opened the meeting at 10 o'clock. Commissioner James E. Donnelly, of the streets and highways department, Supl. Newell P. Putnam and City Engineer Stephen Kearney were present. Mr. Donnelly opened up by saying a delegation had come from the street department to see if the county commissioners were willing to have a new sidewalk installed in front of the court house in Gorham street, and pay half the cost. He then introduced Mr. Putnam who said the present sidewalk is in a very bad condition and thought the best thing to be laid would be a granite sidewalk, from Elm to North streets, half of the cost to be paid by the city and the other half by the county.

Mr. Williams said this has been tried before but the parties interested could not reach an agreement. "The only difference at that time," said Mr. Williams, "being that we were unwilling to be a party to the contract, for if anything went wrong, that is if a man worked over eight hours in one day, the commissioners were liable to a fine of $1000."

Chairman Gould said the county would agree to pay one-half of a reasonable expense for the sidewalk. The commissioners were then informed that every part of the sidewalk outside of the city line would have to be paid for by the abutters. Engineer Kearney said the total cost of the new sidewalk would be about $1500 per square yard, which would mean about 50 cents per square yard for the county and city.

The commissioners are willing to pay half of the cost but they want the city to do or have the work done and then send their bill to the county, but Mr. Donnelly objects to this because of the fact that the cost of the sidewalk would be taken out of his appropriation, and the sum received from the county would go toward the general fund. Finally it was agreed by both parties that the work would be done sometime in June or as soon as court sessions are not held in the building, which will be in a couple of weeks. The city will have the work done and later the county's bill will be sent to the commissioners. Some arrangement will be made so that the county's share of the expense will be returned to the street department fund.

Training School Sewer

The next question taken up was that of constructing a sewer for the County Training school, the same to run into the Lowell sewer. This is a suggestion of Mr. Marden. Engineer Kearney when questioned by the county commissioners said the Lowell sewer extends as far as the corner of Brattle and Middlesex streets and said he believed the city had a right to have any sewer enter her sewers at the city line without going to the legislature. He agreed to supply the commissioners with the approximate cost of the proposed sewer, and the matter was referred to a later date. At the present time there is no sewerage at the school, the dry well system being used.

Before the closing of the meeting Mr. Gould explained how Lowell was paying taxes like other cities to maintain the county commission, and by her charter the said commission was excluded from this city. "We have no jurisdiction in Lowell," said Mr. Gould, "and accordingly we cannot do a thing for your streets or roads. A few years ago we widened Andover street at the request of a number of residents of the vicinity, but legally we had no authority to do it, although there never was any complaint on the matter. The charter excludes us from Lowell and therefore we have to abide by it."

Mr. Marden took occasion to pay a flattering compliment to Commissioner Donnelly, when addressing the other county commissioners. He said "Management of the street department of the city of Lowell has not in a most satisfactory manner the demands from the most interested in general road improvement in the city. All were treated fairly and conscientiously, and I can safely say that Mr. Donnelly is one of the best men Lowell has had at the head of this important department."

Pointing the Way

Today, under the direction of the street department, the turns into Merrimack square were equipped with wide strings of black lead, indicating where vehicular traffic must stay if the traffic regulations are to be lived up to.

Municipal Council Meeting

The municipal council will meet tomorrow afternoon and it is expected that the loan order for $34,000 to pay the street department's back bills for last year, including the $17,000 lighting bill, will be taken up.

TRIAL OF PRES. WOOD

Charged With Conspiracy to "Plant"
Dynamite—Atteaux and Collins
Also Arraigned

BOSTON, May 19.—William E. Wood, a textile manufacturer of international reputation, Frederick E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins were placed on trial today charged with conspiring to "plant" dynamite at Lawrence during the textile strike in that city in January, 1912.

The trial has been awaited with special interest because of the prominence of Mr. Wood and because it is the first time in the history of Massachusetts that a serious criminal charge arising from labor difficulties has been preferred against a manufacturer. The indictment and arrest of the mill man last August caused a sensation.

Dynamite in House
Atteaux is a dealer in chemicals and a friend of Mr. Wood. Collins is a dog fancier of Cambridge. He is charged that the three defendants conspired with John J. Breen, an under-taker of Lawrence, and Ernest Pitman, a builder of Andover, to place dynamite in a house occupied by textile operatives for the purpose of prejudicing public opinion by making it appear that the strikers had possession of an explosive which they intended to use in damaging mill property. The police discovered the dynamite and arrested several striking operatives who lived in the house. All subsequently satisfied the court of their innocence and were discharged.

Soon afterwards Breen, a member of the Lawrence schoolboard, was arrested, convicted and fined $500 for "planting" the explosive. Pitman, who built the Wood mill of the American Woolen Co., committed suicide on the day that the Suffolk grand jury began an investigation of the alleged conspiracy.

Admission By Ticket
Because of the great number who wished to hear the proceedings it was necessary to restrict the spectators to those holding tickets of admission. Mr. Wood himself had some difficulty in getting in but finally established his identity. He was followed into the courtroom by his counsel, former Congressman Samuel L. Powers. Mr. Atteaux was accompanied by his attorney, Daniel H. Coakley, and Mr. Collins by John J. Attridge, who will represent him.

Judge John C. Crosby came in at one o'clock and court was opened immediately. When the roll of forty veniremen was called, 43 of the number asked to be excused from jury duty for reasons privately to the court.

Selection of Jury
When the selection of a jury was begun the court announced that each of the defendants would be allowed two challenges. The first 12 men called were satisfactory to the court, but upon objection by the state, four withdrew. Of the four men substituted, two retired upon being challenged by Atteaux.

Each talesman was asked if he was related in any one of the defendants or had any interest in the case; had formed or expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of any defendant.

The Jury Completed

Two jurors were challenged by Wood and two others by the commonwealth. Collins did not challenge.

The jury was completed after ten men had been rejected. The jurors are: Charles J. Weston, shoe dealer, foreman; John H. Enos, manager; Michael J. Whelan, clerk; Joseph P. Hines, painter; Edward J. Kennedy, watchman; Edmund J. Egan, clerk; Benjamin Small, shipper; Henry Barrett, Jr., shipping clerk; Leo J. McRae, carpenter; Patrick Flynn, coachman; Morris Shuman, newsdealer; Jeremiah J. Mahoney, clerk.

Foreman Weston lives in Chelsea.

All the others belong in Boston.

After the reading of the indictment adjournment was taken for luncheon.

Conspiracy Defined

In opening his address, which he began when court reconvened, District Attorney Pelletier said that the fact of an indictment being returned did not mean that the person under indictment was guilty. He also pointed out that conspiracy was a misdemeanor and that a conviction could not be followed by a sentence to state prison.

He denounced conspiracy as a combination of two or more persons to accomplish an unlawful act by criminal means.

FIRE HOUSE IS CLOSED CASE OF OFFICER O'KEEFE

While the Protective is Will be Heard in Court
Undergoing Repairs Tomorrow

The Knox automobile, known as the protective, and stationed in Warren street, was sent to Springfield today for repairs, local concerns having refused to deal on the repairs on the grounds that they could be made cheaper and better at the factory. The machine went over the road to Springfield and was piloted by John Rinehardt. He was accompanied by Elbridge Dearth from the Palmer street station. While the machine is being repaired the protective squad at the Warren street house will be stationed at different fire houses: two at the Branch street, two at hose 3, Merrimack street and two at engine 4, High street house. The Warren street house will be closed while the machine is being repaired.

Big Kalsombling Job

The big kalsombling job at the Bartlett school will be completed today and the staging and other fixtures will be brought to the city hall to be used in the aldermanic chamber. The old chamber is to receive a good cleaning up and the municipal council will use the old common council chamber while their own chamber is being fixed up.

Contract For Shovels

Bids on a lot of shovels, six dozen in all, were opened in the office of the purchasing agent this forenoon and the contract was awarded to J. C. Bennett. His bid was $11.50 a dozen and he will supply a No. 1, round point D-handle, O. Ames shovel. Lower bids were received on other makes of shovels, but Mr. Bennett's bid was accepted by the purchasing agent.

Commissioner Donnelly stated this forenoon that the reconstruction work in Worthen street would be completed in a day or two. It was believed that an old binder would be used on this street to hold the topdressing of stone and gravel, but it seems that it has not been included in the oil requisition. The macadam work in Third street has been completed and Third street will be tackled tomorrow.

The signers to the petition have shoe shine emporiums in Merrimack, Central, Middlesex, Moody and Fletcher streets.

LETTER ON AUTO
INJUNCTION CASEChief Justice Rugg Writes to Lawyer Dunbar—The Matter is Practically Settled

The following letter which is self-explanatory was received today by Mr. Frank E. Dunbar, counsel for the city in the injunction case of Brown vs. Mayor O'Donnell and others. Mr. Dunbar when questioned by the writer this afternoon said he had nothing to say until he confers with Mr. Albert S. Howard, counsel for Mr. Brown, whom he expects to meet this evening.

Worcester, Mass., May 17, 1913.

Messrs. Frank E. Dunbar, Albert S. Howard, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sirs: Perhaps I did not state quite accurately the substance of Mayor O'Donnell's letter. In full it is as follows: "At the March sitting in 1912, arguments were made in the above entitled case, the question at issue being whether or not a certain automobile was properly contracted for by the city of Lowell. The question having been raised the municipal government of the city of Lowell decided to cancel the contract for the automobile, with the consent of the other parties to the agreement, which was done. Then the city government called for new bids for the purchase of an automobile. Bids were offered by different manufacturers, were received by the government, and a machine purchased and paid for, thus disposing of the entire subject matter of the controversy.

"I feel it my duty to notify you of these facts, that you may be saved some unnecessary labor. It appears from this communication that the subject matter chiefly argued at the hearing is wholly the automobiles for the fire department, is now removed from any further controversy. If this is so, is there any occasion for the decision of the case as presented?

"If you think an interview desirable, I can see you either at nine o'clock on Thursday morning, May 23, or at a quarter before two in the afternoon for a few moments.

Yours truly,

Arthur P. Rugg,

Chief Justice.

NEW LAW TO PROTECT CITIES

The act providing that all payrolls, bills and accounts for compensation of persons in the service of any city, other than Boston, shall be verified by oath has created considerable speculation and considerable annoyance at city hall. The act became operative April 21, but was not complied with by the different departments until last week, and some of the department heads are not quite sure as to just what the city solicitor has not yet given any written opinion in the matter but he has opined verbally.

"Date or dates of employment" are the words completing the second section of the act and these five innocent little words are responsible for all the worry, speculation and annoyance.

Some of the department heads hold to the belief that in making out a payroll under the new act it is necessary to give day and date. They do not think that it is sufficient for the payroll to carry the week ending date at the top of the sheet, but that if John Brown has worked six days out of the week in question the days and dates should be given. City Solicitor Hennessy does not believe that to be the proper interpretation of the law. He allows that the week ending date fills the bill and the mayor is inclined to believe that was, too.

The city's first superintendent, Mr. Dowd, called with his payroll at the mayor's office this forenoon while the reporters were present and Mr. Dowd gave as his opinion that to believe that day and date was necessary in every instance would be a very narrow interpretation of the law. Mr. Dowd said we must have faith in each other. "Faith," he said, "is the thing that holds society together and this business of putting men under oath all the time, but resolves itself into a question of faith."

City Solicitor Hennessy said that the act providing that payrolls shall be verified by oath was gotten up for the purpose of guarding against duplicate payrolls. He said he had never heard of a case in this city but he understood that duplicate payrolls have been detected in other cities. It was found that one man had his name on more than one payroll and that in this way succeeded in getting two or three weeks' pay for one week's work. It is argued that if the payrolls are verified by oath the man behind will not take any chances. The new act in question reads as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for the treasurer or other fiscal officer of any city other than Boston to pay any salary or compensation to any person in the service or employment of the city unless the payroll, bill or account for such salary or compensation shall be sworn to by the head of the department or by the person who is immediately responsible for the appointment, employment, promotion or transfer of the persons named therein.

Section 2. Every such payroll, bill or account shall contain the following information: First, full name of each employee; second, title of his office, specific nature of the labor that he was originally engaged to perform; third, kind of work in which he has actually been engaged since the submission of the last previous payroll; fourth, salary or wages or other compensation; fifth, date or dates of employment.

Section 3. Each appointing, employing or other officer, or in case of board, each member thereof, who willfully refuses or neglects to comply with any provision of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

(Approved April 21, 1913.)

TO SMUGGLE AEROPLANE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 19.—Investigation of the federal grand jury into the alleged attempt to smuggle a war aeroplane across the Arizona border into Sonora for the use of the insurgents forces will be resumed here tomorrow. According to Assistant United States Attorney Dudley S. Robinson at least five indictments for conspiracy to violate the presidential proclamation prohibiting the transporting of munitions of war into Mexico will be returned.

question of faith."

City Solicitor Hennessy said that the act providing that payrolls shall be verified by oath was gotten up for the purpose of guarding against duplicate payrolls. He said he had never heard of a case in this city but he understood that duplicate payrolls have been detected in other cities. It was found that one man had his name on more than one payroll and that in this way succeeded in getting two or three weeks' pay for one week's work. It is argued that if the payrolls are verified by oath the man behind will not take any chances. The new act in question reads as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for the treasurer or other fiscal officer of any city other than Boston to pay any salary or compensation to any person in the service or employment of the city unless the payroll, bill or account for such salary or compensation shall be sworn to by the head of the department or by the person who is immediately responsible for the appointment, employment, promotion or transfer of the persons named therein.

Section 2. Every such payroll, bill or account shall contain the following information: First, full name of each employee; second, title of his office, specific nature of the labor that he was originally engaged to perform; third, kind of work in which he has actually been engaged since the submission of the last previous payroll; fourth, salary or wages or other compensation; fifth, date or dates of employment.

Section 3. Each appointing, employing or other officer, or in case of board, each member thereof, who willfully refuses or neglects to comply with any provision of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

(Approved April 21, 1913.)

DENUNCIATION OF WAR

Secretary Bryan Makes
Vigorous Attack

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Vigorous denunciation of a "subsidized patriotism" which seeks to create war because of the profits in armor plate and battleships and of the sensational and mercenary newspapers which prefer big headlines to the truth, marked an address by Secretary Bryan yesterday at The Hague anniversary meeting, held under the auspices of the Washington Peace Society. It was in celebration of the 14th anniversary of the first meeting at The Hague.

"War is in the interest of a few people, not of all," Mr. Bryan declared. "The profits are garnered by a few, while the masses pay the taxes. A few men gain glory, while the mothers of the nation furnish the sons who make food for battlefields. War rests upon feeling, not upon necessity. Back of much of the future of war is a selfish interest in the manufacture of battleships. And there are men so unscrupulous that they try to stir up trouble in another country against their own, so as to make personal profit therefrom. Is there any baser use for money?"

"The people are learning to discriminate," said the secretary, "between patriotic newspapers and those that seek only for big headlines. I was glad to see the attack Secretary Daniels made on this sensationalism. I hope to see this discrimination by the people increased."

Secretary Bryan expressed the belief that in time this country would have treaties with all other nations, providing for efforts to arbitrate all questions of dispute and that other nations would follow this country's example. These agreements, he said, would make it "almost impossible to bring this country into war with any other contracting nation."

Increasing intelligence, the growing disposition to bring governments nearer the people and the moral growth of the world, he declared, were the three great factors making for peace.

Preparation for war encourages war, he added, those nations that spend most of their time getting ready for war, standing the best chance of going to war. He said it was possible to change the ideal of the world, just as can be done with an individual, and that the ideal of peace would prevail throughout the entire world after a time.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, spoke of the power of education, which he said was becoming more and more universal as the greatest preventive of war.

Arthur E. Call, executive director of the American Peace Society, also spoke.

WATER LET INTO CANAL

Giant Blast at Panama
Demolished Dike

PANAMA, May 19.—The waters of the Pacific ocean were yesterday let into the Panama canal. A giant blast composed of 32,750 pounds of dynamite, was shot, demolishing the dike in the south of the Miraflores locks and allowing the water to flow into an extensive section in which excavations have practically been completed.

The blast was successful in every way, and the vibration was felt in Panama City as though there had been a slight earthquake.

At a meeting of the representatives of 12 Americans, Cristobal was selected as the place for the celebration of the Fourth of July.

RESIGNED AS PASTOR

Rev. E. A. Roadman of Central Congregational Church of Chelmsford Will Study Abroad

Rev. Earl Allan Roadman, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Chelmsford, extended his resignation to his flock yesterday, the letter to that effect being read at the close of the service yesterday by Rev. Herbert E. Harper, who preached in exchange. The resignation is to take effect early in June. It is Rev. Mr. Roadman's purpose to pursue for a time a further course of study.

On the 31st of June Rev. and Mrs. Roadman will go to their home at Cedar Falls, Iowa, and early in July they will sail for Germany, where they expect to remain for a year.

Since taking up the work of the society in January, 1911, the membership of the church has steadily gained under his guidance, and the congregation has gained in numbers. Mr. Roadman has taken an active interest in the welfare of the boys and young men of the church and was instrumental in forming the Men's club. At the church services, and in many other ways connected with the work, Mrs. Roadman has, by her interest and generous giving of her musical talents, supplemented in no small way Mr. Roadman's work as pastor.

PLANS OF MATTHEWS

Call For Social Events in the Near Future—Society Has Removed to Old Central Street Quarters

Considerable activity is being shown at present by members of the Matthews Temperance Institute and there was an interesting meeting of the society held yesterday morning. President John J. Guthrie occupied the chair and many important matters were discussed and acted upon. The membership roll was increased by the addition of the names of three new members admitted yesterday and there were four applications received.

The organization has removed to its former quarters in Central street in the building known as the Mansur block and the interest of the members has undergone a marked increase of late. The quarters have been renovated and painted. On Friday evening a smoke talk and entertainment will be held as a sort of an opening night.

A new gateway is being built at the entrance to the Massachusetts State Infirmary. It is to be of stone and hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific coast by Vasco Nunes de Balboa. Born in Los Angeles, March 23, 1888, and educated there and at the Santa Monica High school, Miss De Velasco has lived in San Francisco since 1905. She is a musician of ability and has sung at many private concerts. She is a business girl, too, being private secretary to one of the most important lumber dealers of the Pacific coast.

It is planned to run a picnic in conjunction with the Lynn organization and a committee will be selected to make arrangements toward this end. Formerly this was a custom and the outings were always attended by the greatest enjoyment.

TEACHERS ORGANIZATION

Will Present "A Daughter of Today," at Lowell Opera House on Wednesday Evening, May 28

The executive officers of the Teachers' organization, which will present Miss Devine's play, "A Daughter of Today," Wednesday evening, May 28, have secured the Lowell Opera House for the performance, the playhouse having been found to be in a state of repair. The advance demand for tickets, in view of the advance demand for tickets, the play is in four acts, and has a good sprinkling of comedy, balanced by serious argument. The fact that it will be produced by talent entirely within the public school department, including the orchestra, adds to the interest of the production.

The company is a large one, containing many minor characters who are of great importance in their way. Not all of the names of those who will appear could be secured at this time, but the most important parts have been definitely assigned, together with many of the members of the supporting cast. Many of the names given here have not been previously announced.

Harms Students

More Than Most Anyone Else.

The Chief of the Presbyterian Hospital in New York, Dr. Fisher, tells one very easy way to avoid some physical ills.

His comments on

are most interesting (see letter in southeast corner).

If the subject appeals to you, try leaving off coffee and tea entirely, use Instant Postum and carefully note, day by day, the return to health and strength.

A level teaspoonful of Instant Postum in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more, and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in cup of hot water.

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Dr. C. Irving Fisher, for a quarter century at the head of New York's great Presbyterian hospital, says in the New York Times of March 23, 1913:

"Coffee poisoning is becoming constantly more common in this country, especially among students, whom it harms more than it would harm almost anybody else.

"Coffee intoxication does not lead to wife beating, but its physiological effects upon some of its victims are almost as bad as those of alcoholic poisoning.

"We continually find at the various clinics signs of the harm done by the excessive use of tea and coffee among children.

"Surely this is quite preventable.

"Children not infrequently appear whose nervous and digestive systems have been wrecked by these two beverages."

REVEREND MR. CLAPP'S VIEW BABY FISH

Of the Functions of the Church Does Not Agree With Rev.

Miss Dixon's

FOR LOWELL

New Fish and Game Association is Very Active

The Ponds, Brooks and Rivers Have Been Stocked

At the First Trinitarian Congregational church, Sunday morning, the new pastor, Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, referred to the address made last week at this church by a former associate pastor of the church, Miss Sarah A. Dixon, Ph. D., and expressed partial dissent relative to Miss Dixon's idea as to the province of the Christian church. In her address, Thursday evening, Miss Dixon expressed the opinion that it is not the province of the church or of the clergymen to go out as experts to settle problems of government, political, social or economic. She believes in teaching every man to do right according to his convictions of duty.

Replying to Rev. Dr. Dixon, Mr. Clapp said:

The issue was the problem as to the province of the church, or more especially of the minister, in regard to certain questions of the day, particularly social and economic, political and patriotic—on which opinion might well differ in the congregation. If I may sum up Dr. Dixon's opinion, it was that to preserve unity in the church and maintain the respect of the world, the minister should refrain from taking sides or even from definitely discussing these questions lest he alienate a part of his people or disgrace himself by amateur and bungling attempts to accomplish results in fields where he is not expert.

The pulpit should rather deal with ideals and motives and fundamental principles, throwing upon the man in the pew the burden of applying them. In my conception of the province of the pulpit, I do not differ absolutely from that presented by Rev. Miss Dixon. The main function of the pulpit is undoubtedly to discover and disclose in language intelligible and inspiring, the fundamental principles, ideals, and motives of the spiritual life, as the spirit of God reveals them to the minister's vision. But in order to be intelligible and inspiring, his words must be in touch with the pressing problems of the day and give some definite direction for the journey through this unexplored land.

I am a total abstainer and I believe in a local option no-license campaign. May I not try to educate the people to my position, even if the church does contain moderate drinkers on the one hand and state prohibitionists on the other, as well as those who agree with me?

A faith that recognizes the realities of life and still remains strong is so much surer than a faith that has not tried and been tried. The province of the pulpit is not simply to point ideals but to assist in carrying them out, that its leadership may be practical and men may have confidence in its real enduring efficiency.

TWO SENT TO THE REFORMATORY

Young Men Were Charged With Breaking and Entering and Larceny

Two young men who have proven themselves a menace to the public were in police court this morning, charged with breaking and entering and larceny. Both defendants, Stanislaus and Wm. J. Burns, pleaded not guilty.

The complaint charged them with breaking into the room of Fred Durant at 70 French street and taking a pocket book containing $25 from his trunk. The complaint was the first witness called to the stand and he testified that he had entertained both defendants yesterday morning at his room and had had occasion at that time to extract his pocketbook from his trunk and show them his bankroll. He then put the pocketbook back in the trunk and locked it and they all went out together. That was all that he knew about the case, he said. The next witness was Mike Frechette. Frechette occupies the room directly over Durant and in the afternoon, he testified, both defendants came back to the house where he and Durant roomed in search of the latter. When they found that he was not in they made their way to Frechette's room where they stayed for about ten minutes. After saying goodbye and leaving his room they did not immediately leave the house, asserted the witness. He said that he heard Durant's door slam and about 15 minutes later slam again and then saw the two accused young men emerge from the house and go up French street. Caron, he said, threw some article away as the two came to a point opposite the Boot coal shed.

Officer McDonough took the stand and testified to finding a light file, which he produced in court, in the coal shed of the Boot mills. The file, he said, fitted the marks made by the instrument used in prying open the trunk. Captain Atkinson showed the court a skeleton key which he said was found in Caron's pocket.

The defendants contradicted the story told by Frechette and said that they both left the building immediately upon leaving the latter's room. Upon cross-examination by Supt. Welch Caron admitted that he had been sent up before for stealing and that his home was in Fall River. Burns also admitted that he had been sent to state's prison for larceny. They were both found guilty and sent to the reformatory.

Fined $30 for Larceny

From the evidence before the court this morning it seems that Joseph Bedovitch wanted to get drunk yesterday and, as he didn't have enough money of his own, he appropriated a wallet with $27.00 in it belonging to John Turkewicz. According to the witnesses of the affair the defendant found the complainant asleep with his wallet lying on the bed and took wallet, money and all. Feeling rather flush he invited a friend out to get drunk and sought a local hotel without delay. He was arrested on Central street with only $7 and the pocketbook left out of Turkewicz's treasure. He was fined $30.

Assault and Battery

Angelos Panagakes was charged with assault and battery upon Ethel-

mes Thaskalofides as well as with being drunk. He pleaded guilty to hitting the complainant in the side of the head with a brick. The misadventure of the injured man's hat and law Caron and Wm. J. Burns, pleaded not guilty.

Assault and Battery

Angelos Panagakes was charged with assault and battery upon Ethel-

mes Thaskalofides as well as with being drunk. He pleaded guilty to hitting the complainant in the side of the head with a brick. The misadventure of the injured man's hat and law Caron and Wm. J. Burns, pleaded not guilty.

The complaint charged them with breaking into the room of Fred Durant at 70 French street and taking a pocket book containing $25 from his trunk. The complaint was the first witness called to the stand and he testified that he had entertained both defendants yesterday morning at his room and had had occasion at that time to extract his pocketbook from his trunk and show them his bankroll. He then put the pocketbook back in the trunk and locked it and they all went out together. That was all that he knew about the case, he said. The next witness was Mike Frechette. Frechette occupies the room directly over Durant and in the afternoon, he testified, both defendants came back to the house where he and Durant roomed in search of the latter. When they found that he was not in they made their way to Frechette's room where they stayed for about ten minutes. After saying goodbye and leaving his room they did not immediately leave the house, asserted the witness. He said that he heard Durant's door slam and about 15 minutes later slam again and then saw the two accused young men emerge from the house and go up French street. Caron, he said, threw some article away as the two came to a point opposite the Boot coal shed.

Officer McDonough took the stand and testified to finding a light file, which he produced in court, in the coal shed of the Boot mills. The file, he said, fitted the marks made by the instrument used in prying open the trunk. Captain Atkinson showed the court a skeleton key which he said was found in Caron's pocket.

The defendants contradicted the story told by Frechette and said that they both left the building immediately upon leaving the latter's room. Upon cross-examination by Supt. Welch Caron admitted that he had been sent up before for stealing and that his home was in Fall River. Burns also admitted that he had been sent to state's prison for larceny. They were both found guilty and sent to the reformatory.

Fined $30 for Larceny

From the evidence before the court this morning it seems that Joseph Bedovitch wanted to get drunk yesterday and, as he didn't have enough money of his own, he appropriated a wallet with $27.00 in it belonging to John Turkewicz. According to the witnesses of the affair the defendant found the complainant asleep with his wallet lying on the bed and took wallet, money and all. Feeling rather flush he invited a friend out to get drunk and sought a local hotel without delay. He was arrested on Central street with only $7 and the pocketbook left out of Turkewicz's treasure. He was fined $30.

Since the formation of the Lowell Fish and Game association, and that was less than two months ago, the following restocking of fish has been done under the careful direction of Willis S. Holt, the father of the association.

Forge pond, town of Westford, 500 white perch, 6 to 8 inches in length; Knapp's pond, Groton, 600 white perch, 6 to 8 inches in length; Merrimack river, 250,000 pike-perch fry, put in at Middlesex Village. These eggs were purchased in New York state and hatched in the Massachusetts hatchery at Palmer. These fish, if they do well in the Merrimack river, will be six inches long one year from now. Pike-perch have done well in the Connecticut river. They are a fine food and game fish and may be caught with a work bait, fly bait or troll bait. They are hard fighters at all times and will attain a weight of 20 pounds in some waters.

Lots of Baby Trout

Up to date 77,000 trout fry have been received by this association and planted by the following members: Messrs. Holt, Smith, Chambers, Davis, Gendales, Lundgren, Marren, Blanchett, Barton, Worthen, Bartlett, Coulter, Cheney, Hall, Mills, Lowthies, Pearson and Livingston. The following brooks were stocked with the trout fry: Black brook, Lowell; Richardson and one other brook in Draut; three brooks in Westford; Crooked spring, Swans and Bina brooks in Chelmsford; Eli's brook and three others in Tringeboro; and Nigger brook in North Littleton. A lot of 18,000 trout fry has been requested for the brooks in Tewksbury and Billerica.

Pouts, Perch and Bass

An assignment of horn pouts, white perch and bass is expected to arrive in Lowell in a day or two and will be distributed in the ponds where these fish have been caught in the past. Pickerel cannot be hatched, with any degree of success, in captivity, but a supply may be obtained for our ponds later on.

Will Stock Covers

The hatchery at Palmer is a model one and great returns are now being made on fish and birds. During the summer, partridge, quail and pheasants will be received and liberated by members of the association and the covers about Lowell will be restocked.

In the fall, trout will be planted in all of the brooks and in three years from now there will be some fine fish in the brooks and ponds and some good game to shoot at. The Lowell Fish and Game association starts off with over 160 paid members and applications for membership are being received every day. The Lowell association has the endorsement of the Massachusetts Fish and Game commission.

In the matter of shipments of trout and other fish, Commissioner W. Raymond Collins, in a letter to Mr. Holt, writes: "It is always a pleasure for us to meet as far as possible the requirements of honest sportsmen like yourself and your associates. For it is cooperation of the sort which you seek inclined to give us that makes the success of our efforts a possibility."

World's Museum of Anatomy

The World's Museum of Anatomy, which has opened at 115 Central street is attracting much attention. It opens at 10.30 a. m. daily and continues through afternoon and evening. The museum, which is for men only, is said to be instructive and educational.

PENNED IN CLOSET

Two Little Girls Were Nearly Suffocated

BOSTON, May 19.—Imprisoned more than eight hours in the narrow confines of a closet in the attic of 7 Chestnut square, Jamaica Plain, while the police of Greater Boston and their frantic parents and friends were scouring the city for them, was the harrowing experience of two little Jamaica Plain girls Saturday.

While the father of one girl was tramping the shores of Jamaica Pond in a vain search for his child, the little one was within the attic of her own home, but her moans and cries were too weak to attract the attention of those below.

The girls, Mary O'Neill, aged 8 years, of 11 Alden place, Jamaica Plain, and Alice Brennan, aged 4½ years, of Chestnut square, Jamaica Plain, were at play in the home of the latter Saturday afternoon. Shortly after 3 o'clock, when the mother left the girls alone, they climbed up the stairs to the third floor.

They were almost suffocated when discovered. They cried until they became weak and then fell asleep. The door of the closet had a spring lock opening only from the outside.

RAID ON COCK FIGHTERS

SUDBURY, May 19.—Five agents of the Massachusetts S. P. C. A. and State Officer Robert E. Mott of Worcester county raided a cockfight in the Sudbury Woods near the Marlboro line at 11.40 yesterday morning, scattered a crowd of 150 men and seized 37 live and seven dead birds, 12 carriages and a large amount of other property.

Informing only yesterday morning of the plans for the fight, the party hurriedly assembled in Boston and traveled to Sudbury in two automobiles. Leaving the cars at a distance, the six men with revolvers drawn made their way through the wood on foot and arrived within 200 feet of the cockpit before they were discovered.

To Settle Cincinnati Strike CINCINNATI, O., May 19.—The tenth day of the strike of the employees of the Cincinnati Traction Co. brought definite indications that an agreement was a probability within the next 24 hours. Both sides this morning united in asking Judge Geoghegan of the common pleas court to postpone action on the petition filed by the city of Cincinnati on Saturday for a receiver for the company.

LOST HAY AND SLEIGH

Barn of J. C. Martel Was Partially Burned

J. C. Martel, a local shoe dealer, sustained quite a heavy loss as a result of a lively fire which caused considerable destruction in a barn in the rear of his home last evening. The fire was discovered a few moments before half past eight and there was a peculiar circumstance connected with the sounding of the alarm. The attempt to send in the alarm was made at exactly half past eight at which time the system is engaged in denoting the time and as a consequence, the box number did not ring. A telephone alarm was then sent in and the department responded with their usual celerity. The family was out when the flames were discovered and the blaze was seen by a neighbor. The flames were burning through the roof and the smoke was very dense. It appeared hopeless to attempt to save the property. Before pattern under control, the fire had completely destroyed the roof and damaged other parts of the building besides burning a sleigh and a large quantity of hay which the building contained. In the lower portion of the place, there was stored an automobile but this was removed before the flames could reach it. The loss of the sleigh and hay was not covered by insurance.

The firemen worked strenuously for about an hour before the recall could finally be sounded. The damage in figures is not given.

STREET CAR SPRINKLERS

Three Were Seen on the Streets Yesterday

Three street car sprinklers were put into service yesterday and therefore it was necessary to put up several of the electric cars for bid. As is customary each year when the sprinklers are put on, the position is given to the man who has been in the company's service the longest, providing he bids for the car. Each motorman has a privilege of bidding and this year Motorman Harry Davis was first choice as he has been employed by the street railway longer than any other man to put in a bid.

PLEASING RECEPTION

Held in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mullin of This City—Delightful Entertainment Given

A reception was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wedge, 36 Bartlett street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mullin, a recently married young couple. Mrs. Mullin was formerly Miss Minnie McSorley, a popular young lady of Centralville. An excellent supper was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Ball and Mr. Peter P. Ball of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. J. Maguire of Providence, R. I. During the evening a fine musical program was enjoyed.

MICHAEL BOULGER DEAD

Boulger, two sisters, Mrs. John J. Doherty and Mrs. O'Connell. The body was removed to the home of his brother, Thomas P. Boulger, 75 Wentworth avenue. AMUSEMENT NOTES

Merrimack Square Theatre
In presenting "Wildfire," the $200 a week royalty play this week at Merrimack Square Theatre, the management has indeed attempted an unprecedented undertaking. The fact that it is extremely late in the season and warm weather is fast approaching, the presentation of a heavy royalty piece like this would be deemed by most managers foolhardy. But Manager Carroll, aware of the fact that Lowell theatregoers respond to the call of a good thing, no matter what the season may be, and with an excellent play capably handled by a competent company and elaborately staged, he expects that the capacity of his popular theatre will be taxed to its utmost at all performances by patrons anxious to see this, the best play of the season. Performances continue. Seats new.

The Casino
Not for a moment since the Casino had its initial experience as a dance hall has its popularity fallen. Recognizing the attitude of the public, well conducted enterprises, the owners spared no expense and left no stone unturned to make the Casino a high class amusement resort. That they succeeded was evident from the start, and is evident today. Hundreds of happy couples attend dancing every night and on Saturday afternoon under the Casino roof.

Stephali's Secret of Success
In her triplicate concert lectures to be given in this city on May 21 and 22 at the Y. M. C. A. association, Miss. Sofia Stephali, an enthusiastic promoter of the work of the National Society for Broader Education, comes to us, as a representative of this noted organization, and under the local auspices of the society.

The general plan of each program is a brief lecture followed by illustrative songs.

Stephali is a most winning singer, who has won universal applause as a soloist, both in Europe and during her brief American tour.

Not only is she a highly gifted vocalist, but she is a rare woman and all-round musician, who is so devoted to her art that it is a part of her being, and she loses sight of self and is conscious only of the songs which she interprets with such unusual skill and ability.

She is wonderful as a singer, because she triumphs over herself, and singing with that depth of feeling that impresses a listener most thoroughly with the love of the art, she arouses the emotions and emboldens all she sings.

Pretty Birthday Party

About 20 of the friends of Miss Ella May Wightman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Wightman, 54 Cashin street, gathered at her home on Saturday afternoon to tender a reception and party in honor of her birthday anniversary. The party was arranged by Miss Wightman's parents and was a very pretty as well as a highly enjoyable event. The guests presented many beautiful remembrances of the occasion to their hostess and on departing, extended sincere wishes for happiness.

In the afternoon the young folk gathered on the lawn where games of various descriptions were played. Later, there was a phonograph concert, besides a musical program rendered by the children themselves. Miss Nora Roy of Canada rendered piano and vocal solos to the delight of her hearers. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wightman, assisted by Mrs. J. Seagel and Mrs. J. McKinney. Mr. H. Seavey took a group picture of the gathering.

A FREE CONCERT

To Be Given at the Highland Congregational Church Wednesday Evening

A free concert will be given by the Men's club of the Highland Congregational church on Wednesday evening. The affair, it is believed, will be largely attended and a very interesting program has been prepared for the occasion by Mr. Thomas R. Parkinson.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon at St. Louis church, when Mr. Omar Ernest Allard and Miss Aurea Champagne, two popular young people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The officiating clergyman was Rev. L. C. Bodard, and the young couple were attended by Messrs. Jacques Allard and Alphonse Champagne. At the conclusion of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 25 Lily avenue. The happy couple left on the 2:30 o'clock train for a brief honeymoon trip to Providence, R. I. They were the recipients of many costly gifts.

BILLERICA

The Ladies of the G. A. R., who will present a silk flag to every Sunday school in the town before Memorial Day, presented three flags yesterday. Mrs. Sarah Murphy presented one to St. Anne's school and it was accepted with thanks by the Rev. S. J. Jobe; Mrs. Hattie Whitney delivered the flag to the Billerica Baptist church while at the Congregational church it was presented by Mrs. Franklin Jaquith and accepted by the Rev. J. Harold Dale.

Next Sunday flags will be presented to the North Billerica Baptist, St. Andrew and the Unitarian church.

The T. R. & T. baseball team easily defeated Milford, N. H. team Saturday afternoon at the North Billerica baseball grounds by the score of 13 to 4. Both clubs batted hard. Cook, a new man on the T. R. & T. team, pitched a good game, keeping the hits well scattered.

The Mitchell school baseball team won from the Methuen high school team on Saturday afternoon by a score of 9 to 7. Both teams played well.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The devotion of the Forty Hours opened at the 9:30 mass at St. John's church, North Chelmsford yesterday morning. A high mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. E. T. Schofield. A special musical program was given by the church choir under the direction of Miss Gertrude Quigley. The solos of the mass were sustained by Misses Clara McCoy and Laura Mason. An instructive sermon on the solemnity of the feast was preached by the celebrant. Confessions were heard yesterday afternoon and last evening. Rev. Fr. Doherty, former curate of the parish, was present to assist at the service and he will continue until the devotion is closed tomorrow. A procession in honor of the Blessed Sacrament was held after the mass yesterday, the children of the Sunday school and the flower strewers accompanying the Blessed Sacrament. At the close of the mass the pastor took occasion to thank the Sisters of Notre Dame, who had charge of the procession, for their careful training of the children.

The masses were celebrated this morning at 5:30 by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield, 7 o'clock by Rev. E. C. Mitchell and the 7:30 mass by Rev. Fr. Doherty. The service will close at the 7:30 o'clock mass tomorrow morning.

WHAT CURES

ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. OPEN HEARINGS

Since the tariff bill passed through the house so victoriously, the strength of the opposition has been centered in a struggle to have it subject to open hearings in the senate. It was argued that by this means only could the various schedules be intelligently considered as the various interests to be affected would thus get their views before the people. The matter was brought to a head by an amendment formulated by Senators Penrose and LaFollette which on being voted on was defeated by a majority of five—a large majority considering the small democratic margin. The tariff bill, therefore, will go to the finance committee of the senate in the form in which it came from the house.

Opposition to the proposed open hearings was mainly based on the assumption that in proposing them the republicans were not entirely sincere and were actuated mainly by a desire to delay the proposed legislation, hoping by so doing to stir up an adverse attitude against the tariff among the people. The advocates of the open hearing policy gained nothing from the fact that their cause was so energetically championed by Senator Penrose, for ever since the publication of some letters that passed between him and a certain Mr. Archibald, he has not held a great amount of popular confidence. Those who attribute tariff opposition to a regret for the high protection which has made the government a shield for all kinds of private enterprises, some of them more or less shady, were not convinced of the contrary by the zeal of Mr. Penrose.

The main objection to open hearings was that they would retard the passing of the bill without having any direct result that would justify the delay. When the Underwood bill was being framed much time was given to a consideration of the various schedules and the party leaders considered such opposition then as would have been brought out if the open hearings prevailed. It would, then, have meant a repetition of much of the former procedure, and as all disinterested parties are hoping for a speedy passage of the bill that the country may quickly adjust itself to the new conditions, it is a matter for congratulation that the democratic leaders were endorsed in their determination to refer the Underwood tariff bill to the finance committee for the consideration without public hearings.

Undoubtedly a great fight in the senate will be looked for in the free wool and sugar schedules. The president has declared that he will not consider any compromise and the determination expressed by his words shows that his previous attitude was based on deep conviction. Thus far the democratic party has held together phenomenally and unless the unforeseen happens the bill is almost certain to pass in practically its present form. The democrats swept all opposition before them in the house and they have had the advantage so far in the preliminary skirmishes in the senate.

CHANGED METHODS

These are days of wonders, and the unexpected happenings that fill the news sheets daily are becoming so frequent that they take on the appearance of the ordinary affairs of life. Still, it is with a smile of incredulity and a slight raising of the brows the people of this country, particularly of New England, will receive the intelligence that Joseph E. E. of the I. W. W. organization has advised some strikers in New York that to succeed they must avoid anything that savors of violence. Incidentally, he said that a "capitalistic" press was watching the deeds of the society and that to obtain their ends they must not give that press the opportunity to malign them or to create an adverse sentiment in them by a continuous publication of their lawless acts.

If this report is true—and it is to be sincerely hoped that it is—it is a triumphant argument for those who hold that the power of the press is one of the greatest powers for good or evil in this or any other country. If the imputation of "capitalistic" is true of the papers which denounced the methods of the I. W. W., then the entire press of the country is "capitalistic" because wherever they have spread their agitations they have been denounced for their bad influence and extreme theories. Sooner or later it must dawn on Mr. E. and the other agitators that when they undertake to overturn the social order against the force of public opinion as reflected in the press of the country, they reckon without their host, and they will realize that to bring about the ideal conditions which they hold out to their particular city, and this is the condition which, in California, has brought about the strong anti-Japanese sentiment which has resulted in the present problem.

WATER ESSENTIAL

No method of street cleaning is adequate in the more used sections of the city, where people pass and re-pass constantly, unless such parts are regularly flushed with water. This is particularly true in summer when the dust is thick on the streets and when every slight breeze blows it in swirling clouds to the discomfort of the people who are obliged to suffer the inconvenience.

It is also true that where people congregate, such as at Merrimack square where hundreds wait for cars daily, there is a great deal of expectation, and in the interests of up-to-date sanitation such portions of the streets should be washed, as no amount of sweeping will give the necessary cleanliness. The cost would not be great, and the need certainly justifies the slight expense. There ought to be some arrangement between Commissioners Donnelly and Barrett by which some portions of the city streets could be regularly flooded, particularly in the coming warm season. Otherwise it might be well to arrange with the Locks and Canals company to have the watering cars, if not the carts, draw their supply from the canals.

In the case of Robert F. Marden appointed county commissioner, it would seem that the office sought the man it would be refreshing if some other high offices were filled in a similar way rather than as a result of a disgraceful scrap in which political pull is the deciding factor.

BOY TRAVELERS

The energetic and original mayor of Boston has just returned from a trip to South America, which was originated by the Boston chamber of commerce as an aid to better international relations between ourselves and the people of the Latin countries, and his first recommendation is that the Boston merchants should make it possible for 100 boys to travel yearly on a tour of inspection of the larger cities of this country. That travel is an education has been publicly asserted frequently by all know, but we also know that many look upon it as anything but a method of amusement, and miss the real value of its influence, especially to the young.

Travel is not an education merely in the sense that it acquaints us with the lives, customs, and habits of other people, or makes us familiar with what they have achieved in the fields of science and art. From the point of view of trade and commerce, it is very broadening as it brings vividly home to us the feeling life all around us which furnishes the thousand opportunities for business expansion. One who has lived in an inland city such as ours can form no idea of the vast extent of international trade until he sees the quays and wharves of seaport cities, but when he once has seen the lines of barges and freight steamers, he finds additional inspiration in the hundreds of wheels which revolve in his native town.

It is not within the province of all to travel extensively, but it is possible to almost everyone to take short trips to neighboring cities in summer, and the educational value of such trips is enormous. Those who remain in one neighborhood become provincial, and their minds are in danger of becoming inactive because of monotony. The young, particularly, are observant and they are quick to see the broader outlook which travel gives. It is to be hoped then that Mayor Fitzgerald's suggestion will be heeded outside of Boston.

DISTRIBUTION OF IMMIGRATION

One valuable lesson to be gained from the California protest against the holding of lands by the Japanese, is the danger of unequal distribution of immigrants. Most of the Japanese in this country are in the western state and the result has been a strong anti-Japanese feeling there which has been growing for years, and of which the present agitation is the culmination. If the tendency of immigrants in other parts of the country can be taken for a guide, it is probable that there is a conservatism among the Japanese which, although blameless in itself, does not tend to improve the present situation.

It is not good for the country or ultimately for the immigrants themselves, that they should crowd into any one locality. Because of the very cosmopolitan character of modern America there is room for all people, but they ought to become identified with American ideas and strive to conform themselves with American ways, at least in matters of trade and commerce. When they collect in large numbers in any one section, there is danger of a sectional spirit which is not to be desired, and the corresponding distrust and dislike which this habit occasions will work to the disadvantage of any people in seeking to advance themselves. In New England it is not thought desirable that any one race should identify itself with a particular industry or wish to live in one particular city, and this is the condition which, in California, has brought about the strong anti-Japanese sentiment which has resulted in the present problem.

QUIT CALOMEL!

Thousands are Turning From This Dangerous Drug

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after-effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-oil colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They act on the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel. They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

300 Children Received

First Communion

A very pretty ceremony was held at St. Patrick's yesterday morning, when about 300 children, boys and girls, received their first communion. The ceremony took place at the seven o'clock mass which was celebrated by Rev. Mr. Kerrigan.

The girls were neatly attired in dresses of white and wore veils and flower wreaths, while the boys were clad in black suits. The spectacle was a most pleasing one as the children approached the altar to receive the sacrament. The congregation was very large and during the service appropriate hymns were sung by the school choir.

In the afternoon at four o'clock the baptismal promises were renewed and the communicants were enrolled in the scallop. Fr. Kerrigan was the officiating clergyman and the service closed with benediction.

Preparations are now being made for the annual Corpus Christi procession in St. Patrick's parish. The feast falls on Thursday next, but the observance will be postponed until next Sunday afternoon, when a procession will be held. The ceremony will take place at 2 o'clock, weather permitting, and will pass around the usual course. The participants in the procession besides the officiating clergymen and their assistants, will be the members of the sanctuary choir, and the members of the various societies and sodalities of the church.

This procession is a great event in the parish and the societies of the church are endeavoring to make it one of the most splendid ever held in this city. The grounds as well as the church will be elaborately decorated for the occasion, and an altar will be erected in the yard of the academy, where solemn benediction will be held.

St. Peter's
Rev. W. George Mullin celebrated high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday, and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan preached the sermon. A trio consisting of Miss Vera Moody, Miss Gertrude Keleher and Mr. James E. Donnelly rendered "Ave Marie Stella" at the offertory.

Wednesday evening there will be a meeting of the Married Ladies' sodality; Thursday evening a meeting of the society for the propagation of the faith; and on Friday evening a meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual May party of the Holy Name society in Lincoln hall on Friday evening next, and it promises to be quite a social event. President James W. Cook is general manager and Mr. Joseph A. Sandborn, floor manager.

THREE NEWLY ORDAINED PRIESTS

Celebrated First Mass With Great Rejoicing by Friends—Rev. Frs. McCartin, Bolduc and Bradley

At the immaculate Conception church yesterday the 11 o'clock mass was celebrated by Rev. James J. McCartin, O. M. I., who was ordained to the priesthood at Brighton on Saturday. The announcement that he was to be the celebrant had thronged the church to its capacity, for the young priest is well known in the parish, having passed his earliest years there. In the front pews of the church sat his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCartin of 115 Pleasant street and a large number of relatives and friends. Principal guests of the Moody school, one of his old teachers was among the present.

With Fr. McCartin in the celebration of the solemn high mass were Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., as assistant; Rev. Terence Loftus, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. James McCartin, O. M. I., a cousin of the young celebrant as sub-deacon, and within the sanctuary sat Rev. Lawrence Tighe, Rev. Denis Sullivan, and Rev. Owen McQuaid.

The special music for the occasion was particularly fine. Turner's St. Cecilia's mass, was sung and Mrs. Frank McCartin sang a beautiful "O Salutaris." At those parts of the service where the organ accompaniment was dispensed with the voice of the choir blended beautifully, and the effect was reverently solemn. Before the service the organist, Mrs. Hugh Walker played several selections including the stirring "Jesu Christ, My Lord and My King" of Cardinal O'Connell.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Denis Sullivan, O. M. I., who took for his text the glory of the priesthood with special reference to the newly ordained priest. The sermon was beautiful and eloquent and when he spoke of the struggles and hopes of the Catholic parents who wish to see their son a priest he reached a depth of tenderness that brought tears to the eyes of many in the congregation. In opening Fr. Sullivan said: "When I look over the great assemblage gathered into this church, I cannot help but feel that you have come here especially to honor the young priest who here on our altar with freshly consecrated hands raised to call down the blessings of God on this parish. And it is fitting indeed that we do him honor; for honor is given on earth to all who symbolize authority. We honor kings; we honor the president; we honor our parents. So do we come here today to honor him whom the Lord has chosen for the great and noble mission of the Catholic priest and who, when he speaks of the duties that will take him to the bedside of the dying, the side of the penitent, the abode of pestilence and death, and who speaks of the joy that the occasion must have evoked in the hearts of his parents who saw him offer up the august sacrifice of the mass, who knelt to receive blessings from the consecrated hands which they had often guided in infancy. Fr. Sullivan said in part: "From the bottom of my heart I offer to you happy parents my own congratulations and the congratulations of the people of the immaculate Conception parish who rejoice with you. The holy joy of this occasion more than offsets the long days of waiting, the long years of prayer and hope. You now see your desires fulfilled, and the son you have given to the service of God is here to invoke the blessings on you which your sacrifice deserves." Then, turning to Fr. McCartin, he said: "You are young, young, in this solemn hour when your heart is teeming with high hopes and holy resolves, do not forget the dear ones who are here today to see you officiate on the altar of God—and do not forget the people of this parish of whose faith you have strong proof. May they always have a warm place in your heart."

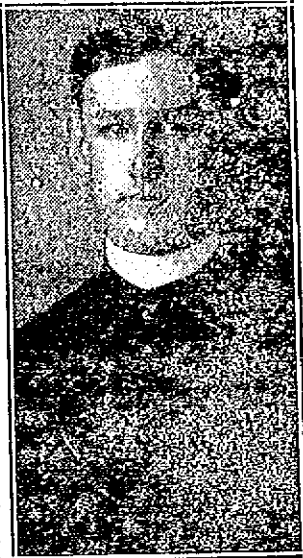

After mass Fr. McCartin gave his blessing to the people of the congregation. It was announced that the devotion of the forty hours will begin at the immaculate Conception church on Friday morning, and end on the Sunday following. On Sunday evening the annual Corpus Christi procession will be held in which many of the parish societies will take part.

Rev. Fr. Bradley

Rev. James Joseph Bradley, who was ordained to the priesthood at Brighton on Saturday celebrated his first mass at the seminary on Sunday and this morning he celebrated mass in the private chapel of the Dominican sisters in Centralville. Among those present were his mother, Mrs. Rose Bradley of 214 Lakeview avenue; his sisters, Miss Annie Bradley and Mrs. Thomas McCartin, and his grandmother, Mrs. Bridget Golden, and a number of his most intimate friends. Fr. Bradley was assisted by Rev. John J. Shaw, who after the ceremony made a brief address referring to the joy of the whole parish on seeing one of their sons a priest after a career of such brilliancy. "The bride service," said Fr. Shaw, "is beautiful and inspiring but far more beautiful and wonderful is the priest's first mass among his own people." He congratulated the mother and relatives of Fr. Bradley on behalf of all the people of St. Michael's parish. After mass the immediate relatives and friends gathered in the parlor of the convent and received the blessing of the newly ordained priest. Here an informal talk was again given by Fr. Shaw, who was assured by Fr. Bradley's mother that it was one of the happiest days of her life.

Rev. Fr. Bolduc's First Mass

Rev. Joseph Arthur Bolduc, O. M. I., who was ordained to the priesthood Saturday at St. John's seminary in Brighton by Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, D. D., celebrated his first mass at St. Joseph's church, yesterday morning. Fr. Bolduc had been a member of St. Joseph's church for a number of years, having received his first communion in this church. It was also in this church that he received the

REV. JAMES J. MCCARTIN, O. M. I.

thurs. L. Eno and Arthur St. Hillaire.

The altar was beautifully decorated for the occasion, it being covered with potted plants and flowers, while hundreds of incense-burners flung incense into the sanctuary. The spectacle was most impressive.

Previous to the mass four former classmates of Fr. Bolduc called on him in the sacristy and presented him a handsome gold pax, after which he bestowed upon them his blessing. The donors were: Edgar Dubuc, Tancred L. Blanchette, Emile Gagnon and Arthur St. Hillaire. The delegation from St. Joseph's college alumni were also given the priest's blessing.

Rev. Fr. Bolduc was assisted at the mass by Rev. J. R. Jallbert, O. M. I., a brother of Rev. Fr. Bolduc, who was a deacon Saturday, and Rev. A. Bernard, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, who served as sub-deacon. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of the parish, and a former teacher of the young priest, while the latter was at the Holy Angels college in Buffalo, N. Y.

The sermon, a forceful one, was preached by Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., who took for his text "Tu Es Sacerdos in Eternum." The preacher told how the occasion was dear to him inasmuch as the young celebrant was the first of his pupils to be ordained. He also spoke of the joy existing in the parish on the event of the first mass of one who for years attended the parochial school of the parish and who also served as an altar boy in the same church he is now celebrating his first mass.

He paid a flattering tribute to the young clergyman and referred to him as a bright, intelligent young man, and congratulated his parents for their happiness in this special day. He then explained the duties of a priest, especially a member of the Oblate order, emphasizing the fact that Fr. Bolduc may be called upon as others have been to preach the gospel in far away missions. Fr. Watelle concluded by telling his brother his mission was now to save souls and said he hoped in his prayers he would never forget his dear mother, father, brothers and sisters, as well as the members of his parish, and the members of the Oblate community.

The choir under the direction of Telephore Male sang the harmonized mass of the second tone. Mrs. Joseph A. Bernard presiding at the organ. The solos were sustained by Messrs. Arthur Groulx, J. E. Nohet, E. J. Laroche, Henri Wilbrenner, Dr. George E. Cousineau. At the offertory Miss Clemence Simard of St. Louis church sang in fine voice Chas's "Ave Maria," and at the close of the mass Mr. Ernest J. Dupont rendered in a most pleasing way a hymn appropriate to the occasion.

At the close of the mass the executive committee of St. Joseph's college alumni held a brief meeting and it was unanimously voted to present Rev. Fr. Bolduc, O. M. I., who is a member of the alumni, a manual of church ceremonial and a pocket missal, the same to be purchased and presented by the chaplain of the association, Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. I.

In the afternoon the young priest repaired to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zephyria Bolduc, 111 Pleasant street, where a family dinner was enjoyed. Several relatives of the young priest coming from other cities to congratulate the young clergyman and also to receive his blessing. Fr. Bolduc returned to the Oblate novitiate in Tewksbury today, where he will remain another year to complete his theological studies.

IRREGULAR CHANGES IN OPENING PRICES OF THE STOCKS
Leaders began fractionally higher—Rock Island Stocks and Bonds Weak—The Market Closed Firm

NEW YORK, May 19.—Opening prices of stocks today disclosed irregular changes. A majority of the leaders began the session fractionally higher but in the first few minutes of trading eased off. Rock Island common and preferred and St. Louis & San Francisco pfd. made new low records for the year. The copper shares were heavy.

The active tendency of the market leaders did not amount to much, buying orders appearing after fluctuations reached half a point or so. Liquidation of low-priced stocks was unchecked and several new low records were made. St. Louis & San Francisco pfd. slumped four points to 103.

Acute weakness of St. Louis and San Francisco and other low priced railroad stocks put the general market to a test under which it gave indications of underlying strength. St. Louis & San Francisco common and second pfd. dropped five points each and the first pfd. 12 points. No authoritative explanation of the movement was made. Rock Island stocks and bonds also were weak.

Low priced stocks made partial recovery of their big losses of the morning. Speculation generally was apathetic, about the only feature of interest being the comparative strength of the market leaders.

Speculation became decidedly stronger in tone. Advances of one and two points respectively in Reading and Can. Pacific promoted a demand for other favorites. Completion of the urgent liquidation of minor railroad stocks enabled them to rally briskly.

The market closed firm.

Sugar Reduced
NEW YORK, May 19.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced ten cents a hundred pounds today.

Boston Market
BOSTON, May 19.—A three point rise in Boston & Maine on small lot trading was the feature of the early dealings on the local exchange today. Copper shares were dull and easy.

AMERICANS AT ROME
Pilgrimage of 50 Was Received This Morning

ROME, May 19.—An American pilgrimage of 50 persons, conducted by the Right Rev. John Grimes, bishop of Syracuse, New York, was received this morning by Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state. Bishop Grimes delivered an address expressing the loyalty of the pilgrims and presenting Peter's Pence, amounting to $500, to which the cardinal made suitable reply and then imparted the apostolic benediction in the name of the pope. Bishop Grimes was afterwards received in private audience by Pope Pius. He was the first American pilgrim to be received since the pontiff's illness.

Amendment to Tariff Bill
WASHINGTON, May 19.—An amendment to the tariff bill introduced today by Senator Kenyon proposed that when any corporation or concern was adjudged a monopoly its products should automatically go on the free list.

GREEK ASSAULTED
The Man Who Threw the Brick Is Still at Large—Great Excitement in Market Street

There was considerable excitement in Market street near Hanover street Saturday afternoon. There was a gathering of several hundred Greeks, and word was sent to the police station that something out of the ordinary was happening in the Greek district.

Patrolman George Abbott and Inspector Walsh were detailed on the scene of the gathering and in a few minutes they received an explanation of the trouble. It seemed that a certain Greek, whose name could not be learned, met a compatriot in Hanover street and after exchanging a few words, struck him in the face with a large rock which he kept concealed in his hand.

The victim of the rock fell to the sidewalk and when he came to again his assailant had disappeared. A search of the neighborhood was made, but the man with the rock was not located. The police quickly dispersed the crowd after receiving a good description of the assailant. He is still at large.

UNDER POLICE GUARD
20 Strikers Returned to Work at Paterson

PATERSON, N. J., May 19.—Through a lane of police two blocks long 20 persons formerly employed by the silk mill of the Arthur Price Co. went back to work today after a strike of more than two months. Hundreds of pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World sought to prevent their return but the police guard was too effective. There were lively skirmishes for a time and sixty pickets were arrested. The Price mill is a comparatively small one, employing normally 30 hands. The return of its strikers with demands unsatisfied is however heralded by the manufacturers as meaning the approaching end of the strike. Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World on the other hand maintain that the fight will go on unabated and that few others will yield.

FELL FROM STAGING

Timothy Kennedy, employed at the Lowell Gas company's plant at School street, received severe internal injuries early this afternoon when he slipped and fell 20 feet from a staging upon which he was at work. The injured man lives on John street.

Dead Body in Shed
BOSTON, May 19.—The Braintree police are trying to find the person who locked the shed door on the outside, in which was found yesterday morning the body of George F. Corliss, who died some time Saturday night.

Discovery of the body of Corliss led the police at first to believe that murder had been done. The man fell and broke his skull.

RUNABOUT WAS STOLEN
From Middlesex Street Saturday Night—It Was the Property of Dr. Gardner

An automobile belonging to Dr. Archibald Gardner was stolen from Middlesex street last Saturday night between the hours of 7 and 8.30 o'clock. The machine was a Ford runabout number 13,613, and was left on Middlesex street near Central, while Dr. Gardner was in his office in the Spaulding block. When he returned to the street for his machine it was gone and no clue was left to find out who the thief might be. He immediately notified the local police, who are at present working on the case.

MURDERER OF "PADDY" THE PRIEST EXECUTED

"Happy Jack" Mulraney Was Electrocuted at Sing Sing Prison Early Today

OSSING, N. Y., May 19.—John Mulraney, who was to have been put to death as a murderer on March 11, but who won a 60 days' reprieve by declaring in a personal appeal to the governor that he was going to his death as a martyr of a criminal "code of honor," was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison early today.

"Happy Jack," as he was known to his comrades, was to the last the smile that had won him his nickname and called back to the other inmates of the death cell a cheerful "goodbye." Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant and the gunman involved with him in the Rosenthal murder were among the 14 who answered the murder of which Mulraney was convicted was that of Patrick McGree, known as "Paddy the priest," a New York saloonkeeper, who was shot while standing behind his bar on the night of October 3, 1911. John J. Dawling, who died before he could be tried and Mulraney, both signed confessions to the murder but in the deathhouse Mulraney repudiated his admissions, claimed an alibi and asserted he had accepted the conviction following a "crook's code of honor, not to squeal on the other fellow." Justice Rosalesky of New York decided, however, there were no grounds for a new trial.

Manager Gray has been summoned to today's session of the superior court as a witness for the defense in the case of Thomas Dowd vs. The New Bedford B. C. club. Inc. Dowd claims that the Whalers still owe him for the balance of the salary which would have come to him if he stayed at the helm of their baseball team during the season of 1911 instead of being released. The plaintiff asserts that no was engaged for the entire season and therefore should collect the salary. In Manager Gray's absence today President Andrew Roach will be in charge of the team in Lynn.

Today's game is the only contest away from home this week. Lynn here tomorrow. Hugh Duffy's team at Spaulding Park Wednesday and Thursday, Fall River with us Friday and Pieper's Lawrence leaders will be the attraction on Saturday. The fans will have a chance to satisfy their appetite for baseball this week!

Lippincott sprang a great surprise on the athletic world by his performance last Saturday in the dual meet between Cornell and Penn. His winning of the 220 yards and placing in the hundred was expected but when he went out after these events and beat Cozens in the quarter his name was straightway placed in the University Hall of Fame. The timers gave Reller of Cornell 9.4-5 in the hundred on a track covered with mud and water and it was only an accident in starting which deprived Penn's great sprinter from winning this event also. It is all very well to say that Reller can run a hundred in 10 seconds because we know he has done it but when it comes to giving him 9.4-5 sec. on a track in the worst possible condition it is stretching the public's imagination a trifle. If this man can go through in the remarkable time given out for his Saturday performance it is safe to say that Lippincott can negotiate the distance in 9.2-5.

The crowd which witnessed Saturday's game between the Burkes and The Beverly Progressives were vastly surprised at the classy brand of ball put up by both teams. If Manager Coughlin can keep this aggregation together he is sure to make a success of semi-pro ball in Lowell.

Although Dartmouth is expected to walk away with the New England Intercollegiate there are sure to be some stellar performances made by representatives of other colleges before the meet is brought to a close. The Green team is planning its faith in Captain Wright in the pole vault, Englehorn in the weight events, Olsen in the sprints and Enright in the jumps. The meet will be held for the first time in the Harvard Stadium.

A Lynn paper says: Down in Brockton they're willing to match Dowd against Miller of Lowell in quality of work around second base. The Brocktonian is making a fine showing this year.

I don't suppose that they would have ever made that assertion if they thought it would blow back to Lowell. There is absolutely no comparison between the two second sackers as anyone who has seen both perform will readily testify. Miller covers more ground, is an easier and better thrower and can club the point for many more points than Dowd. All of which does not say that the Brockton second baseman is no ball player but simply that Miller is his superior in every department of the game.

The umpire situation in the New England league is the worst that it has been for several years. Out of the four regulars, Hannon, Rudderham, O'Brien and White, the first two are the only ones who have a chance with the fans and their works is not up to the standard that should be set by the New England league. O'Brien and White have made some horrible decisions thus far, O'Brien being the most hopeless piece of baseball machinery that we have ever seen.

The twelve round fight Friday night between Young Stone and Young Boyle for the championship of the city is attracting considerable attention from those interested in the mitt game. Stone was the winner of the last bout which was a 10 round affair but it is claimed by Boyle's friends that the latter held Stone too cheaply. The scrap this week should prove a good one.

The Red Sox have again met with an accident. Larry Gardner sprained his ankle badly in Saturday's contest and although no bones are broken, it will be over a week before he can again get into a baseball uniform. He is on his way to Boston now, his locomotion being aided by a pair of crutches.

RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE

Secretary of Teachers' Federation Says It is of the Utmost Importance.

Howard W. Poor, secretary of the Massachusetts Teachers' federation, discussing the act to provide a retirement allowance for teachers, says:

"This act, with the proposed amendments, harmonizes the conflicting interests that have arisen because of certain local teachers' pensions, and there should be no further objection on that score."

"It is becoming more difficult each year to secure and retain good teachers, and Massachusetts is obliged to compete with other states that pay pensions. New Jersey has a retirement system, and Massachusetts is constantly losing highly skilled teachers to that commonwealth. Maine and Vermont have recently adopted pension systems, and we are likely to draw fewer teachers from these states than in the past, which is to say that the sources of supply have become somewhat diminished."

"The advantages of local pensions accrue only to a small number of communities, and a state system is needed to insure equal benefits to the school systems of all the towns and cities."

"Not many school committees have the hardness of heart to discharge old and worn-out teachers when such discharge means poverty. Distress or charity, and the public sentiment, would support such action in few communities, yet it is an injustice to the children to retain as teachers those who have become superannuated. A pension system, which offers the means of retiring such teachers without hardship, is a just and humane solution of the problem as evidenced in Maryland, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia, New York, Maine and Vermont, whose legislatures have established state pension systems for teachers."

"Hundreds of teachers in Massachusetts work for an annual wage that is less than that paid to the day laborer, and the majority of teachers have no family to take care of them in their old age as has the laborer. It is proper then to look upon the pension as a deferred salary, or as an added emolument, which will have a tendency to keep good teachers in Massachusetts, and which will be an incentive for the best teachers to seek employment here."

"President Pritchett, of the Carnegie foundation, has pronounced this bill, with amendments, the best pension system for teachers yet proposed. 'It is hoped, therefore, that Massachusetts will not long remain behind other commonwealths in enacting this important legislation.'"

SUFFRAGETTES' TEAM

Girls Climb Into Amateur

Baseball

Everybody get this one; here is a bunch of the fairer sex getting the fever. Any young girls of 10-11 years of age desiring a game are requested to communicate with Florence E. Bennett, 51 Cambridge street. Pardon us, girls, but honest isn't this, a jolly you're handing us now? But if you get a game, keep it under your hats, or I should say rats, for if the amateur boys' team gets wind of it, all their games will be postponed and you will have a record attendance. We should worry and pass the umpires! Another notch up for the suffragettes.

Diamond at Shedd Park

The park department of the city has decided to lay out a regulation size baseball field in Shedd park. In the ground used last winter as a skating rink and this news will be received with joy by hundreds of young Ty Cobbs. This diamond will be a great addition to the city's sporting resources and according to the general opinion, is worth the money. At present accommodations for the amateurs are limited and for this reason many games will have to be postponed or canceled. This diamond will be ready at an early date and there will be two special officers in charge.

The Young Howards want to play any 11 year old team; call or write 115 Howard street, Hyman Golden.

The Wilders Reply

There is nothing like having both sides of a story and we are glad to see that the Wilder A. C. responded to our request to explain the matter of double crossing the Oreoles. Their explanation calls for another on the part of the Oreoles and we wonder if they have any more to say. J. Scully, manager of the Wilder A. C. called upon the writer and in the course of the conversation said: "The Wilder A. C. is not afraid of the Oreoles who claim that we objected to a certain batter. The Wilders challenged the Oreoles for a game to be played on the Burnside grounds on Saturday, May 2 and the Oreoles after accepting, failed to put in an appearance. The Wilders, moreover, do not desire to give the Oreoles another chance to quit because they want to arrange contests with teams who are not afraid to appear on the field to play. Now, we hear that the White Sox are a fair bunch of ball players and we would like to get a game with them if they are not quitters." Come on, White Sox, show your sporting blood now and send us in your account of the game. Write to J. Scully, 25 Adams street.

Want to Play White Sox

The West Ends of Centralville are the third team who want to play the White Sox and they ask for the Memorial Day date on the Bunker Hill grounds. The manager can be found any night in L street between seven and eight o'clock, just ask for J. Kilbride, everybody knows him. But be sure and get there before eight o'clock for his training schedule calls for his being in bed at that time.

Get Baw, Riley!

The Unions express a desire to arrange a game with the team led by Leo Riley for the 11 years' championship of the city. Manager Sullivan of the city, Manager Sullivan would like to meet Captain McGraw and arrange a game. Address 32 Varunum street or 10 Webster avenue.

Tanglefoot Some Player

That outfit with the musical name of Hinky Dinks want to play the White Sox on the Bunker Hill grounds. The Hinky Dinks were cooking up some comedy for their challenge in the business office of The Sun last night when the writer happened along and the party broke up. They had started the lineup and the first name was "Tanglefoot Campbell, catcher." We are sorry that they did not finish for it would have been good. Every time Tanglefoot starts after a foul fly one of his shoes gets caught in his pocket and after the mixup, it requires the entire team with the assistance of spectators to untangle Tanglefoot's legs and get him to looking a regular fellow again. He can't hit, and he can't judge a high ball, and we do not mean one of the wet kind, any more than an Irishman could be bookkeeper in a Chinese laundry, and as for hitting, the only way he can connect with a ball is to kick it. Aside from that, however, he is a good ball player and his right position is behind the bat, how far behind the bat we decline to say.

Get Together, Boys

Here are these Oreoles and the Wilder A. C. again. The Oreoles want to play the Wilders on the North common or the Burnside street grounds on next Saturday. They also want to play the White Sox on the morning of Memorial Day. The Oreoles and Wilders have been talking considerable, each telling what they will do to the other but they have also been running away from each other. Now is their chance to get together.

Silver Cup to Winner

The result of the game between the Greenhale and Colburn school teams was 3-4 in favor of the latter. This is in the grammar school league, organized by Mr. Williams of the Y. M. C. A. and the winning team will be awarded a silver cup.

Eagles Fly With Game

We hear that the Eagles handed out defeat to the Beacons Juniors by the score of 12 to 10. The Beacons must have played with one hand to let that bunch of bluffers trim them.

Walkers Had to Bent It

In a game between the Clinton A. C. and the Walkers, the former were the winners by a score of 13 to 3. The two teams will clash again on next Saturday morning at ten o'clock on the Clinton grounds. The players are under 14 years of age.

Algonquins Wallpapered

The Athletics wallpapered the Algonquins by the melody of 15 to 11 and are now so puffed up about it that they challenge any 13 year old team. They want to play the White Sox on the morning of Memorial Day. The Athletics get a typewriter. Teams wishing a game write 21 Franklin

BILLIARD TITLE FROM HOPPE

NEW YORK, May 19.—Koji Yamada, the Japanese expert, will play Willie Hoppe for the 182 baik line billiard championship in New York May 27. The contest promises to be unusually interesting. Both of the principals are brilliant exponents of the intricacies and beauties of balk line billiards. Hoppe is the more resourceful, Yamada the more spectacular. While the champion gathers caroms all over the street. He signed the letter but we could not read that either.

C. M. A. C. Defeated

The Buntlings trimmed the C. M. A. C. aggregation Saturday by the score of 12 to 8. The fielding features were contributed by W. O'Brien in the left garden and the battery work of Johnson and Murphy was exceptionally classy. The winning team proved too much for the North End aggregation, both in hitting and fielding and the victory was a well earned one. The C. M. A. C. outfit is by no means slow and were far from being completely outclassed in this contest.

The Tigers Won

The Tigers of North Billerica won their sixth straight game of the season Saturday when they defeated the Lowell Americans in a game marked by brilliant fielding by both teams. Both pitchers worked steady and kept the ball well centered. The score was: Tigers 2, Lowell Americans 2.

Girls' Friendly Society and Choir of St. Anne's Church Held Procession Last Night

The members of the Girls' Friendly Society, together with the choir of St. Anne's church, formed a procession last night in the choir room and proceeded to the front entrance of the church and up the center aisle to the altar steps. Besides the processional cross the choir carried the banner of the church, side by side with the national colors. Rev. Appleton Grannis preached a short sermon from the text, "For Their Sakes I Sanctify Myself." The sermon was very interesting and instructive.

EIGHT TO FOUR WAS THE SCORE

Lowell, With a New Pitcher, Won

Over Brockton—Grays Made

Eighteen Hits

With the newest acquisition to her pitching staff, Henderson, in the box, and Monahan playing in the position vacated by Smoyer, Lowell succeeded in batting out an 8 to 4 victory over Brockton Saturday. Henderson allowed Brockton only six scattered hits. Brockton started the scoring getting one man across the plate in the first inning. In the fourth Lowell scored two runs and added two more in the fifth. In the seventh and eighth the visitors managed to add four more runs to their total by timely hitting and good base running. Four Lowell baserunners were thrown out at the plate.

Every man on the Lowell team got a hit, eighteen safeties being the total number of bingles collected by Manager's Gray's outfit. Dee and Lavigne each knocked out three hits, two of Dee's being for two bases. Henderson gave eight free transportation tickets, made a wild pitch and hit one man, in a close game his wildness would have been costly.

Lavigne caught a great game, having five assists and three putouts to his credit. Magee made two wonderful one hand catches in left field which cut off sure runs for Brockton. The score:

PRESIDENT WILSON FIRM

Stand on Wool and Sugar

Brings Confidence

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The effect of President Wilson's public declaration that there would be no compromise on free wool and free sugar in three years in the new tariff bill has been the subject of constant discussion since the chief executive made his pronouncement in the presence of assembled newspaper correspondents last week.

Administration leaders declare that the president's vigorous assertion has served to strengthen the party lineup in the senate and they point to the vote on the question of public hearings of the tariff bill as an indication of the solidarity of the majority.

Before the president came out so strongly in the face of the tremendous lobby influence, that completely surrounds the capital, the legislative air was surcharged with uncertainty. On every hand was heard the report that the finance committee was planning to put a duty on wool or to cut out the three year free sugar provision and to leave sugar at the end of a three year period with a small tariff.

So thick and fast did the rumors fly that they penetrated the executive office and the president himself began to get a bit dubious. Then it was that he decided that a little tightening of the party ropes would do no harm. Taking a firm grip on the executive end of the strings that lead to capitol hill, he called in the correspondents and in their presence gave a strong pull. Up to that time several democrats had been reported to be wavering on the subject of public hearings, which would mean prolongation of the discussion with additional time for lobby manipulation and for activity by the republican opposition. At least five democrats were considering voting for the Penrose-La Follette amendment. But when the president re-affirmed his determination to stand by his schedules which he virtually dictated into the tariff bill, only Senators Hansbatt and Thurston of Louisiana broke through the party lines to remain outside until the end.

Another phase of the tariff discussion in the senate served as a further indicator of the exact situation. That was the interpretation of the democratic platform as relating to free sugar, given by Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, the spokesman for the administration. When the Louisiana senators attempted to put President Wilson and the party on record as opposed to free sugar, the executive head of the party took notice again and on Friday morning Senator James delivered what amounted to a flat denial of the allegations made by the insurgent democrats who are fighting to break up the majority on the sugar schedule.

Senator James declared that the party did favor free sugar; that it campaigned on that issue, and, with the knowledge of the president, he challenged anyone to find a man who could truthfully assert that Woodrow Wilson ever said that he opposed free sugar. Again, the administration scored.

Now the democrats of the senate have the tariff bill to themselves. For two or perhaps three weeks the bill will be in the hands of the finance committee and whatever other schedules they may alter, the assurance has gone out that no change in wool or sugar will be recommended when the bill reaches the party caucus. There, behind closed doors, the democratic senators will have their final conference on the bill. The caucus, it is understood, will be a binding one. Western senators who would like to see a tariff on wool and those who would like a change in sugar will make their last stand. There are some who believe that some change in one schedule or the other will eventuate, while others maintain that no change will be made and that not more than one other senator will join the Louisiana senators outside the party lines. That would leave the majority in a safe position.
